The battalions were ordered to report at 9 o'clock but it was 9.30 o'clock before all had arrived. In the competitive drills, which began shortly afterward all the battalions did very well. CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

John H. Ring Recommended For License Commissioner—Other Matters Considered.

The newly elected delegates to the Central Labor union, presented their credentials at the meeting of the union yesterday, and were obligated. There were five delegates present from each of the following unions;

Textile workers No. 68, Justice Assembly K. of L., Building Laborers, Cotton Spinners, Granite Cutters, Loomfixers, Social Assembly K. of L., Stott's Textile union No. 70, and Textile union No. 60 of Dracut.

The election of officers consumed but very little time as all of last terms' officials with the exception of L. W Weeks. the recording secretary were re-elected. Mr. Weeks declined to serve any longer, and A. McCullough was chosen in his place. The board of government is now composed of the following officers: John Meehan, president; William B. Grierson. vice president; William Buckley, treasurer; A. McCullough, recording secretary; William Rafferty, financial secretary. Trustees—Amos Kendall of the granite cutters; Daniel Moynahan of the building laborers; William B. Grierson of Justice Assembly, K. of L.

William B. Grierson and Daniel Moynahan were appointed a committee to audit the accounts of the financial secretary. They did so and found them correct.

Cornelius Buckley sent in a bill for four dollars for witness fees in the case of the C. L. U., against the Caledonian club. The bill was lost to notice by being consigned to the company of waste paper. The members of the union say they have reasons for refusing to honor the claim of Mr Buckley.

A motion was offered and passed that hereafter, until Sept 1, the union hold semi-monthly meetings.

It was voted to allow the Loomfixers' union the use of Central Labor union hall on August 11 and 12. The convention of the International Textile workmen will be held on the former date.

The organizing, legislative and entertainment committees were then announced, being made up of one delegate from each of the unions represented in the C. L. U.

John H. Ring For the Commission.

For license commissioner, Mr. John H. Ring.

Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the Central Labor union, although that body had unanimously chosen President Meehan.

Mr. Meehan positively refused to allow his name to be used in connection with the commission, and so Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the union, and Messrs. Kendall, Connolly and Moynahan were appointed a committee to present him to Mayor Pickman.

The debate leading up to the passage of the motion requesting the C. L. U. to name one of its delegates as a license commissioner, was very lively.

One of the delegates felt quite certain that the mayor could not refuse this request of the C. L. U. He is only waiting to appoint a man who has received such an endorsement.

He also believed it would be political suicide for the mayor to place on the commission some of the candidates who have already announced themselves.

Mr. Buckley expressed the belief that the mayor has already decided upon the commissioners and this action by the C. L. U. is only a farce.

Another delegate believed this to be the proper time to make the demand for this position. The mayor cannot refuse us, when we are 3000 strong.

Delegate Connelly admired the sentiment that prompted such action but requested the delegates not to act too hastily, as the passage of such a motion might do more harm than good.

A ballot was then taken and the votes were divided among several candidates, but finally the list narrowed down to three names and Mr. Ring was chosen.

Delegate Rafferty then brought up the matter of choosing a delegate to represent the union at the political convention to be held in Boston June 18, but it was voted to lay the matter over for one week and refer the question to the various unions and get an expression of opinion.

The meeting then adjourned.

A RETIRING FOREMAN.

Mr. William E. Gilmore's Good Qualities Recognized by His Friends of the Sun.

THE SUN editorial room on Saturday afternoon was the scene of a pleasant little event which will long be remembered by every one who was present particularly by Wm. E. Gilmore who for thirteen years has faithfully labored for the welfare of the paper and its job department in the capacity of foreman of the latter establishment. The little event, aboved mentioned was a gathering of the men who make THE SUN from the "lord of the manor" down to the "devil" himself to express their respect and esteem for their fellow worker, Mr. Gilmore who was about to retire from the service for the popular foreman began a business for himself in Manchester, N. H., today.

The crowd came together about 4:30 o'clock and began the exercises with a toast to the health of Mr. Gilmore. Then after partaking of a repast gotten up by Caterer Maguire, the "speech-making" portion of the exercises began. City Treasurer Harrington had a few witticisms left over from the Farnum banquet, and he was allowed to [illegible] first After dwelling upon Mr. Gilmore's many good qualities both in and out of business, he presented him, in behalf of his associates at the SUN office a beautiful open faced gold watch with chain and charm, such as Jeweller Wood of Central street claims to be the finest in Lowell. The match was inscribed on the inside cover: "Presented Wm. E. Gilmore by his Associates of THE LOWELL DAILY SUN, June 2, 1894." The recipient was much affected by the gift which to him was a genuine surprise and it was with difficulty that he found words to express his thanks which were heart felt. Remarks were also made by Messrs. Gallagher, Maguire, Reidy, Myers, McCurdy, Mulligan and Hearn, and by Messrs. McCaffrey, Riley and Holloran who had served as appentices under the popular foreman. They were all sorry to part Mr. Gilmore who was one of the most competent printers in the business, besides being a "prince of good fellows. Some Political Matters.

THE SUN was mistaken it seems in naming Philip J. Farley as a candidate for the license commission. He is not a candidate although his name was mentioned as one of the men whom Mayor Pickman might select.

The name of James Gookin was also mixed up with the councilmanic candidates from Ward Six. He is not running for the council, but is in the representrtive fight to stay—so they say.

Among the councilmanic candidates are Mr. McGlinchey who is a member of the city committee and a good worker in politics. His friends say he is a winner. Dennis O'Neil is also working hard and has many friends. He is also a member of the committee. Benjamin Preston is in the race and making long strides for the goal. The other candidates have already been mentioned. Mr. Thornton says he is not a candidate.

COMMITTEE ON COMMONS

Discusses the Evolution of a Common Horse.

The committee on commons kept up the gait struck by the street committee, Saturday.

The street committee kicked—so did the committee on commons. The latter committee met to approve bills, and when one bill was presented calling for $150 for a horse, the members looked at each other. "And they wore a worried look."

Alderman C. R. Johnson wanted to know all about the horse, and who purchased it.

Chairman Dunlap replied that he is chairman of all sub-committees, and Alderman Johnson admitted that. The chairman and a committee was appointed to purchase a horse, and as chairman he did the purchasing, and if the committee is not satisfied, he will buy the animal from the committee for $150. After a little discussion the bill was approved.

It was then decided to ask the city council for an appropriation of $1000 for Tyler park. It was also decided, after a lengthy discussion, to transfer two or more men from Fort Hill park to Tyler park.

The new driver of the patrol wagon has not yet been appointed, but it is safe to say that Hostler James Kilburn, in the line of promotion should have the position, will get it, and a hostler appointed from outside.

COLORADO DELUGED.

THE MINES ARE FLOODED AND DAMAGE DONE.

The Rivers Overflow Their Banks and Sweep Away Bridges—Travel Delayed and Trains Imperilled.

DENVER, June 4.—J. E. Murden, contracting agent for the Union Pacific, is in the city, having walked all the distance from Central City to Golden. He said: "No one can conceive of the destruction in that part of the country." Every mine in Central City and vicinity is flooded, and there is not a vestige of placer mine left in Clear Creek. Between Central City and Forks Creek there are 28 washouts, averaging from 10 to 50 feet in width.

Between Idaho Springs and Golden there are 26 washouts. The mining men in Central City estimate the loss to the county at $500,000. It is not known when the Gulf will commence running trains again to Central City and Georgetown, but it may be a week or 10 days yet. This estimate is based on the assumption that the creek will not again rise.

LAMAR, Colo., June 4.—Fifty feet of the south end of the bridge across the Arkansas river gave way before the flood Saturday night, and 25 feet on the north end was sweptaway. The river covered all the bottoms, and was a mile wide at the bridge. The Santa Fe's tracks, east and west, are submerged. All the irrigation canals are filled by the overflow, and some of them have been broken in many places. A number of farms along the river have been greatly damaged by the flood, which washed out all the crops.

Four westbound passenger trains are waiting for the track to be made passable. The river is slowly falling, and it is believed that the worst is over. It is impossible to at present estimate the amount of damage done. The water reached a higher point during the present flood than ever before known.

SUGAR

To Receive Attention of Senate This Week.

EVENING SESSIONS WILL PROBABLY BE HELD.

State Bank to be Considered by House.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The sugar schedule will again this week be the central point around which the proceedings in the senate will devolve.

Among numerous senators who were asked for their opinion as to when the debate on this schedule would cease, not one would attempt to fix a definite time. The discussion has already proceeded for three days, which is the utmost time the Democratic senators would admit before the debate was begun, would be necessary or allowed to it. Some think it will be possible to reach a verdict tomorrow, while others assert that there are contingencies which may postpone the disposition of the schedule until the latter part of the week.

The Plan of Campaign.

Among other lines of policy which have been conversed among the opponents of the bill, is that of allowing the sugar schedule to be accepted as amended by the committee on finance, without taking any vote on the schedule in committee of the whole, the object being that the opponents of the bill shall not be forced to show their hands at this time, and especially that they may refrain from exhibiting their superior strength among Democratic and Populist senators.

Senator Harris adheres to his determination to ask the senate to prolong its daily sessions into the evening. Some of the Republican senators have taken his notice to mean that he will ask the senate to sit until the sugar schedule shall be disposed of, but conversation with him and with other Democratic senators indicates that his purpose is hardly so definite, but indicates that the intention is to press as near to the goal as it may be possible to do. They say that the speeches of the past few days indicated that the sugar subject is one prolific of talk, and that they want to give opportunity to dispose of as much of the talk as possible within reasonable hours.

The House Program.

The outlook for the week in the house of representatives is so much in doubt that a Democratic caucus may be necessary to agree on a plan of action.

The state bank question has been debated until the leaders are anxious for a vote.

As the state bank principle was incorporated in the Democratic platform, the leaders are loath to see the bill defeated, so that a caucus tomorrow may be called for the purpose of formulating a party plan which will command united support. It is probable that the final vote on the bill will be taken early in the week unless the whole question is allowed to go over until a caucus committee can frame a satisfactory bill.

The rules committee are considering the advisability of giving one day to Representative Cooper's bill for subjecting greenbacks and Sherman notes to state and local taxation. At present these forms of paper money are exempt from taxation.

England's Influx of Gold.

LONDON, June 4.—There is no sign of a cessation of the influx of gold to the Bank of England, the stock of bullion of which has reached the record of 36,000,000 pounds, while the reserve is nearly 28,000,000 pounds. The high prices of the best securities prevent the bank from investing.

A Change of Quarters.

LICENSE COMMISSION.

Mayor Pickman's Choice a Matter of Conjecture.

It seems to be the general opinion about town today, that Mayor Pickman will appoint Harry R. Rice on the license commission. The mayor and Mr. Rice have been close friends during the past twenty-five years and have been associated in various organizations. Mr. Rice has never sought nor held a political office and is strongly indorsed by leading men of both parties for a commissionership.

It is not probable that Mayor Pickman will refuse the request of Mr. Rice's friends and it is considered by many as a poor stroke of policy on his part should the place go to some one other than Mr. Rice. Weaver, Paige, Thompson, Crowley, and some others are also mentioned.

It is stated that Hon George A. Marden is a candidate for the commission.

Words for the Wise.

Charles A. Hoitt & Co. having bought the entire stock of goods of Manning & Leighton's assignee, John E. Randall, of Boston, are making the same at such prices that the entire stock will sell during the five days beginning Tuesday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock.

There will be a full force of salesmen and sales ladies, and Mr. Hoitt promises prompt and courteous treatment throughout the entire sale, and Messrs. Manning & Leighton and their full force will be connected with the sale.

Have patience and wait for your delivery and all will be correctly and satisfactorily done. This is a bona fide sale and store will be vacated the first of the coming month, and early customers will get the advantage of single and odd pieces. It is worth your attention, even if there is not an article for your house you are in need of.

Chas. H. Hoitt & Co., have taken every piece of straw matting in the entire stock measuring from five to eighteen yards, marked and piled in one pile until it measured more than a cord; these mattings cost at wholesale to import from sixteen to twenty-five cents and you can buy any piece at 5 cents a yard, a chance of a life time to carpet a room at a very small sum. Every carpet in the entire stock has been reduced in price one half, many much more and remnants. Five small rolls halved again until there are great bargains. Bring your measure and for small rooms you can get carpets at one fourth the original price. Remember there are many choice patterns in moquettes, Brussels, tapestries, wool and unions and a stock of five hundred rolls of straw mattings second to none in the state or New England.

Milk Can Stolen.

The summer is with us again, and so are the sneak thief and the tramps. Residents of Varney street complain that the meanest kind of a thief is the one who is operating that vicinity and relieving them of the milk left on their doorsteps early in the morning by the milkman. One resident says that there is no punishment too severe for such a scoundrel.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

John H. Ring Recommended For License Commissioner—Other Matters Considered.

The newly elected delegates to the Central Labor union, presented their credentials at the meeting of the union yesterday, and were obligated. There were five delegates present from each of the following unions;

Textile workers No. 68, Justice Assembly K. of L., Building Laborers, Cotton Spinners, Granite Cutters, Loomfixers, Social Assembly K. of L., Stott's Textile union No. 70, and Textile union No. 60 of Dracut.

The election of officers consumed but very little time as all of last terms' officials with the exception of L. W Weeks, the recording secretary were re-elected, Mr. Weeks declined to serve any longer, and A. McCullough was chosen in his place. The board of government is now composed of the following officers: John Meehan, president; William B. Grierson, vice president; William Buckley, treasurer; A. McCullough, recording secretary; William Rafferty, financial secretary. Trustees—Amos Kendall of the granite cutters; Daniel Moynahan of the building laborers; William B. Grierson of Justice Assembly, K. of L.

William B. Grierson and Daniel Moynahan were appointed a committee to audit the accounts of the financial secretary. They did so and found them correct.

Cornelius Buckley sent in a bill for four dollars for witness fees in the case of the C. L. U., against the Caledonian club. The bill was lost to notice by being consigned to the company of waste paper. The members of the union say they have reasons for refusing to honor the claim of Mr Buckley.

A motion was offered and passed that hereafter, until Sept 1, the union hold semi-monthly meetings.

It was voted to allow the Loomfixers' union the use of Central Labor union hall on August 11 and 12. The convention of the International Textile workmen will be held on the former date.

The organizing, legislative and entertainment committees were then announced, being made up of one delegate from each of the unions represented in the C. L. U.

John H. Ring For the Commission.

For license commissioner, Mr. John H. Ring.

Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the Central Labor union, although that body had unanimously chosen President Meehan.

Mr. Meehan positively refused to allow his name to be used in connection with the commission, and so Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the union, and Messrs. Kendall, Connolly and Moynahan were appointed a committee to present him to Mayor Pickman.

The debate leading up to the passage of the motion requesting the C. L. U. to name one of its delegates as a license commissioner, was very lively.

One of the delegates felt quite certain that the mayor could not refuse this request of the C. L. U. He is only waiting to appoint a man who has received such an endorsement.

He also believed it would be political suicide for the mayor to place on the commission some of the candidates who have already announced themselves.

Mr. Buckley expressed the belief that the mayor has already decided upon the commissioners and this action by the C. L. U. is only a farce.

Another delegate believed this to be the proper time to make the demand for this position. The mayor cannot refuse us, when we are 3000 strong.

Delegate Connelly admired the sentiment that prompted such action but requested the delegates not to act too hastily, as the passage of such a motion might do more harm than good.

A ballot was then taken and the votes were divided among several candidates, but finally the list narrowed down to three names and Mr. Ring was chosen.

Delegate Rafferty then brought up the matter of choosing a delegate to represent the union at the political convention to be held in Boston June 18, but it was voted to lay the matter over for one week and refer the question to the various unions and get an expression of opinion.

The meeting then adjourned.

A RETIRING FOREMAN.

Mr. William E. Gilmore's Good Qualities Recognized by His Friends of the Sun.

THE SUN editorial room on Saturday afternoon was the scene of a pleasant little event which will long be remembered by every one who was present particularly by Wm. E. Gilmore who for thirteen years has faithfully labored for the welfare of the paper and its job department in the capacity of foreman of the latter establishment. The little event, above mentioned was a gathering of the men who make THE SUN from the "lord of the manor" down to the "devil" himself to express their respect and esteem for their fellow worker, Mr. Gilmore who was about to retire from the service for the popular foreman began a business for himself in Manchester, N. H., today.

The crowd came together about 4:30 o'clock and began the exercises with a toast to the health of Mr. Gilmore. Then after partaking of a repast gotten up by Caterer Maguire, the "speech-making" portion of the exercises began. City Treasurer Harrington had a few witticisms left over from the Farewell banquet, and he was allowed to ... first. After dwelling upon Mr. Gilmore's many good qualities both in and out of business, he presented him, in behalf of his associates at the SUN office a beautiful open faced gold watch with chain and charm, such as Jeweller Wood of Central street claims to be the finest in Lowell. The match was inscribed on the inside cover: "Presented Wm. E. Gilmore by his Associates of THE LOWELL DAILY SUN, June 2, 1894." The recipient was much affected by the gift which to him was a genuine surprise and it was with difficulty that he found words to express his thanks which were heart felt. Remarks were also made by Messrs. Gallagher, Maguire, Reidy, Myers, McCurdy, Mulligan and Hearn, and by Messrs. McCaffrey, Riley and Holloran who had served as apprentices under the popular foreman. They were all sorry to part Mr. Gilmore who was one of the most competent printers in the business, besides being a "prince of good fellows. He leaves behind him a host of friends who will join with the employes of THE SUN in wishing him success and prosperity in his new business.

Some Political Matters.

THE SUN was mistaken it seems in naming Philip J. Farley as a candidate for the license commission. He is not a candidate although his name was mentioned as one of the men whom Mayor Pickman might select.

The name of James Gookin was also mixed up with the councilmanic candidates from Ward Six. He is not running for the council, but is in the representative fight to stay—so they say.

Among the councilmanic candidates are Mr. McGlinchey who is a member of the city committee and a good worker in politics. His friends say he is a winner. Dennis O'Neil is also working hard and has many friends. He is also a member of the committee. Benjamin Preston is in the race and making long strides for the goal. The other candidates have already been mentioned. Mr. Thornton says he is not a candidate.

COMMITTEE ON COMMONS

Discusses the Evolution of a Common Horse.

The committee on commons kept up the gait struck by the street committee, Saturday.

The street committee kicked—so did the committee on commons. The latter committee met to approve bills, and when one bill was presented calling for $150 for a horse, the members looked at each other. "And they wore a worried look."

Alderman C. R. Johnson wanted to know all about the horse, and who purchased it.

Chairman Dunlap replied that he is chairman of all sub-committees, and Alderman Johnson admitted that. The chairman and a committee was appointed to purchase a horse, and as chairman he did the purchasing, and if the committee is not satisfied, he will buy the animal from the committee for $150. After a little discussion the bill was approved.

It was then decided to ask the city council for an appropriation of $1000 for Tyler park. It was also decided, after a lengthy discussion, to transfer two or more men from Fort Hill park to Tyler park.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

They begin duty today at 10 o'clock, p. m. and remain on until midnight.

The new driver of the patrol wagon has not yet been appointed, but it is safe to say that Hostler James Kilburn, in the line of promotion should have the position, will get it, and a hostler appointed from outside.

One officer is now on duty at the two commons and Fort Hill park.

COLORADO DELUGED.

THE MINES ARE FLOODED AND DAMAGE DONE.

The Rivers Overflow Their Banks and Sweep Away Bridges—Travel Delayed and Trains Imperilled.

DENVER, June 4.—J. E. Marden, contracting agent for the Union Pacific, is in the city, having walked all the distance from Central City to Golden. He said: "No one can conceive of the destruction in that part of the country." Every mine in Central City and vicinity is flooded, and there is not a vestige of placer mine left in Clear Creek. Between Central City and Forks Creek there are 29 washouts, averaging from 10 to 50 feet in width.

Between Idaho Springs and Golden there are 20 washouts. The mining men in Central City estimate the loss to the county at $500,000. It is not known when the Gulf will commence running trains again to Central City and Georgetown, but it may be a week or 10 days yet. This estimate is based on the assumption that the creek will not again rise.

LAMAR, Colo., June 4.—Fifty feet of the south end of the bridge across the Arkansas river gave way before the flood Saturday night, and 25 feet on the north end was swept away. The river covered all the bottoms, and was a mile wide at the bridge. The Santa Fe's tracks, east and west, are submerged. All the irrigation canals are filled by the overflow, and some of them have been broken in many places. A number of farms along the river have been greatly damaged by the flood, which washed out all the crops.

Four westbound passenger trains are waiting for the track to be made passable. The river is slowly falling, and it is believed that the worst is over. It is impossible to at present estimate the amount of damage done. The water reached a higher point during the present flood than ever before known.

The flames worked their way around the corner to the warehouse of Manchester, Robertson & Allison, and it is completely gutted. Much of the contents are burned or badly damaged. The total insurance is $138,000, and the loss will be about $250,000.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 4.—Yesterday the striking miners were on the alert, expecting that any moment some of Sheriff Bowers' deputies would put in an appearance in some remote portion of the camp. Not a single miner is working. The men are now confident that they will be attacked, and all not necessary to guard the approaches to Bull Hill and forage for supplies have been massed about the fortification. Their number is slightly over 1800.

Caused Sensation In Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The dismissal of the Bulgarian Prime Minister Stambuloff by Prince Ferdinand caused a sensation here, but it is not regarded as menacing the peace of Europe or offering any prospect of the solution of the Bulgarian question, for Russia's objection was not to M. Stambuloff personally, but to Prince Ferdinand's illegal occupation of the Bulgarian throne, which Russia holds to be a standing infraction of the Berlin treaty.

Turpin's Plans Recovered.

PARIS, June 4.—M. Lagrange of the Patrie and M. M. Gautier and Cardonne of Figaro, who went to Brussels to see Turpin, the inventor, were successful in convincing him that he would be guilty of a great wrong against France if he were to sell his secrets to Germany. They received from Turpin all the documents descriptive of his plans and inventions, and will place them in the hands of the minister of war.

Colored Democrats to Convene.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—M. C. H. J. Taylor, president of the Negro National Democratic league, has issued a call for a convention to be held in Indianapolis the 2d of next August. The session will last three days, and will be private except to delegates and those securing admission by ticket from the president.

A Cold-Blooded Murderer.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 4.—W. L. Lunsford shot and killed his colored coachman, Arnold Taylor, yesterday. Lunsford beats Taylor clean a horse. Taylor hesitated and Lunsford shot him. Lunsford gave himself up and is now in custody of the sheriff.

SUGAR

To Receive Attention of Senate This Week.

EVENING SESSIONS WILL PROBABLY BE HELD.

State Bank to be Considered by House.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The sugar schedule will again this week be the central point around which the proceedings in the senate will develve.

Among numerous senators who were asked for their opinion as to when the debate on this schedule would cease, not one would attempt to fix a definite time. The discussion has already proceeded for three days, which is the utmost time the Democratic senators would admit before the debate was begun, would be necessary or allowed to it. Some think it will be possible to reach a verdict tomorrow, while others assert that there are contingencies which may postpone the disposition of the schedule until the latter part of the week.

The Plan of Campaign.

Among other lines of policy which have been conversed among the opponents of the bill, is that of allowing the sugar schedule to be accepted as amended by the committee on finance, without taking any vote on the schedule in committee of the whole, the object being that the opponents of the bill shall not be forced to show their hands at this time, and especially that they may refrain from exhibiting their superior strength among Democratic and Populist senators.

Senator Harris adheres to his determination to ask the senate to prolong its daily sessions into the evening. Some of the Republican senators have taken him notice to mean that he will ask the senate to sit until the sugar schedule shall be disposed of, but conversation with him and with other Democratic senators indicates that his purpose is hardly so definite, but indicates that the intention is to press as near to the goal as it may be possible to do. They say that the speeches of the past few days indicated that the sugar subject is one prolific of talk, and that they want to give opportunity to dispose of as much of the talk as possible within reasonable hours.

The House Program.

The outlook for the week in the house of representatives is so much in doubt that a Democratic caucus may be necessary to agree on a plan of action.

The state bank question has been debated until the leaders are anxious for a vote.

As the state bank principle was incorporated in the Democratic platform, the leaders are loath to see the bill defeated, so that a caucus tomorrow may be called for the purpose of formulating a party plan which will command united support. It is probable that the final vote on the bill will be taken early in the week unless the whole question is allowed to go over until a caucus committee can frame a satisfactory bill.

The rules committee are considering the advisability of giving one day to Representative Cooper's bill for subjecting greenbacks and Sherman notes to state and local taxation. At present these forms of paper money are exempt from taxation.

Services in an Orchard.

STAMFORD, Conn., June 4.—Pastor A. L. Shear of the Sound Beach Congregational church was dismissed last week by a vote of the society, but he is supported by a large section of the congregation. He received a letter from Lawyer Walsh saying that if he attempted to preach in the church yesterday he would be arrested. The Shearites left and attended a service conducted by Shear in an orchard near the parsonage. Rev. R. H. Bosworth of Brooklyn preached in the church, making no reference to the trouble.

Accident to a Baseball Umpire.

PROVIDENCE, June 4.—Umpire Gaffney, who was injured by being struck by the wire of his mask, which was broken by a batted ball at the game Friday, had a portion of the frontal bone removed at the hospital. The injury, which at first appeared to be so slight that he was able to finish the game, grew steadily worse until it reached such a serious phase that his reason would have been affected if the injured bone had not been removed.

Another Mystic River Mystery.

BOSTON, June 4.—Shortly before noon yesterday, the body of a young man about 25 years old, was found floating in the Mystic river, near Malden bridge. The body had evidently been in the water at least four weeks, and was 5ft. 7in. inches in height, with dark complexion, dark hair, smooth face, black coat, double-breasted vest and white cotton shirt. It is not yet known what caused death.

Swordsmen to Contest.

BUFFALO, June 4.—Harold St. John of New York and Professor Cernean of this city, swordsmen, have made a match for a contest with foils, duelling swords and single sticks for $500 a side. The date has not yet been agreed upon. There is bad blood between the men, and a hot fight will be the outcome of the match.

England's Influx of Gold.

LONDON, June 4.—There is no sign of a cessation of the influx of gold to the Bank of England, the stock of bullion of which has reached the record of 26,000,000 pounds, while the reserve is nearly 28,000,000 pounds. The high prices of the best securities prevent the bank from investing.

A Change of Quarters.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The officers of the Twenty-first regiment, United States infantry, passed through this city yesterday on their way to Plattsburg, N. Y., where the regiment has been ordered by the war department. The regiment has been stationed for years in Indian Territory.

A Southern Lynching Bee.

DUBLIN, Ga., June 4.—About 10 days ago a negro was caught in the room of Mrs. Cooney, a woman living about 15 miles from here. He was arrested and put in jail here. Last night a mob entered the jail, bound and gagged the jailor, took the negro out and shot him.

Danvers Pastor Resigns.

DANVERS, Mass., June 4.—Rev. C. B. Rice, who has been with the first church of Danvers for the past 21 years, gave notice from his pulpit yesterday that he should resign, to take effect Sept. 1. Mr. Rice gave as his reason that he intended to accept the position of secretary of the Congregational Ministerial union of Boston, with a salary of $2000 a year.

PUTNAM & SON,

ONE-PRICE CLOTHIERS,

Central Street, Cor. Warren.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Will Vinton, of Putnam & Son, and Mr. Charles Edwards, will sail for Europe July 4th. Charles R. Costello is going abroad this summer.

Major Thomas B. Jackson of Charlestown, S. C., is visiting in this city.

Amos Adams is visiting friends in Chelmsford.

LICENSE COMMISSION.

Mayor Pickman's Choice a Matter of Conjecture.

It seems to be the general opinion about town today, that Mayor Pickman will appoint Harry R. Rice on the license commission. The mayor and Mr. Rice have been close friends during the past twenty-five years and have been associated in various organizations. Mr. Rice has never sought nor held a political office and is strongly indorsed by leading men of both parties for a commissionership.

It is not probable that Mayor Pickman will refuse the request of Mr. Rice's friends and it is considered by many as a poor stroke of policy on his part should the place go to some one other than Mr. Rice. Weaver, Paige, Thompson, Crowley, and some others are also mentioned.

It is stated that Hon George A. Marden is a candidate for the commission.

Words for the Wise.

Charles A. Hoitt & Co. having bought the entire stock of goods of Manning & Leighton's assignee, John E. Randall, of Boston, are marking the same at such prices that the entire stock will sell during the five days beginning Tuesday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock.

There will be a full force of salesmen and sales ladies, and Mr. Hoitt promises prompt and courteous treatment throughout the entire sale, and Messrs. Manning & Leighton and their full force will be connected with the sale.

Have patience and wait for your delivery and all will be correctly and satisfactorily done. This is a bona fide sale and store will be vacated the first of the coming month, and early customers will get the advantage of single and odd pieces. It is worth your attention, even if there is not an article for your house you are in need of.

Chas. H. Hoitt & Co., have taken every piece of straw matting in the entire stock measuring from five to eighteen yards, marked and piled in one pile until it measured more than a cord; these mattings cost at wholesale to import from sixteen to twenty-five cents and you can buy any piece at 5 cents a yard, a chance of a life time to carpet a room at a very small sum. Every carpet in the entire stock has been reduced in price one half, many much more and remnants. Five small rolls halved again until there are great bargains. Bring your measure and for small rooms you can get carpets at one fourth the original price. Remember there are many choice patterns in moquettes, Brussels, tapestries, wool and unions and a stock of five hundred rolls of straw mattings second to none in the state or New England.

Committee Meetings.

Mayor Pickman is free from license commission talk today. He is in Boston.

Hereafter, it is understood that meetings of the committee on fire department will be held at City hall instead of at Chief Hosmer's office.

The committee on accounts will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A regular meeting of the aldermen and an adjourned meeting of the council will be held tomorrow evening.

Milk Can Stolen.

The summer is with us again, and so are the sneak thief and the tramps. Residents of Varney street complain that the meanest kind of a thief is the one who is operating that vicinity and relieving them of the milk left on their doorsteps early in the morning by the milkman. One resident says that there is no punishment too severe for such a scoundrel.

GOVERNOR GREENHALGE has opportunity that may ever be his to prove that he is not in favor of allowing an oppressive monopoly to grow to such proportions that it can rule the legislature instead of being ruled thereby. Let the governor veto the bill increasing the telephone stock watering bill, and he will have rendered valuable service to the state and struck a heavy blow to one of the most menacing monopolies that has fastened itself upon the commonwealth.

ONE CAUSE OF DELAY.

Republican papers are railing at the delay of congress in passing the tariff bill overlooking the fact that republicans in both branches caused all the delay they possibly could by filibustering tactics. There is one point that is generally overlooked in this matter, viz: it is easier to impose tariff duties than to take them off. When such duties are imposed it is done on the very plausible pretext of protecting industries and labor and when any attempt is made to remove such duties no matter how unjust or excessive they are, a great howl is raised by the industries affected and by republicans who claim to stand for the interests of labor. When McKinley framed his tariff bill he had no opposition in imposing high duties but when Congressman Wilson undertook to reduce the tariff imposts every inch of the ground had to be fought against corporate bodies, republican organizations of various kinds in and out of congress. This is one great cause of delay in the settlement of the tariff question but it is not considered by republicans or intended by the people in general. But despite the greater obstacles in the path of progress, the tariff bill will soon be passed and it will be passed in little more than the time taken by McKinley & Co., to pass the law which bears his name and which led to nearly all the industrial troubles which have since come upon the country.

FRADULENT INSURANCE.

The communication printed in last Friday's SUN regarding the injustice done to certain real estate owners by fire insurance companies is one that should be considered by all who have dealings with such companies. The incident in which the injustice was done occurred in the adjustment of the insurance on one of the buildings destroyed in the Boston fire. The company paid what the building was supposed to be worth when destroyed not what it was insured for which was considerably more. The insurance policy had been running for a number of years and the building had deteriorated very considerably from the time the policy had been taken out. Regardless of this fact the company was expected to pay the face value of the policy. Otherwise there is no use in putting down any amount on the policy. It s plain that some of the companies are a trifle too smart and that they are ready to be unfair if they can do so. It seems the law provides a remedy for such a fraudulent method of adjusting insurance.

THE MAYOR is having a little experience similar to that of an alderman previous to May 1. He has just three places to fill on the license board and there are not less than a dozen candidates who must get the places. The rejection of any one of them will bring the wrath of the gods down upon his head, and shatter his political hopes forever. There is only one consolation in all this delemma and that is that every other mayor in the state with the exception of those of Boston and Fall River have had or have now the same trouble.

CURRENT CLIPPINGS.

The Present.

The present moment is the sum of time:
The all to come a dreamer's prophecy;
The past the mingled music of a chime
That rang by night into a windy sky.

Sit not with folded hands to mourn dead days,
Nor idly wait the days that are to be,
For while thou watched they, too, go their ways
To join the ghosts that haunt and harrow thee.
—Charles L. Hildreth in Youth's Companion.

Made Him Feel Bad.

When Professor John Tyndall lived in Brooklyn many years ago, he staid at what was then known as the Dickenson club. It was kept by Dr. Dickenson, who owned a drug store on the ground floor and let out apartments in the upper stories to bachelors. Near the drug store was a barber shop, the proprietor of which was ready at a moment's notice to talk on any subject. His confidence in himself was so great that he never hesitated to set forth his views, no matter who occupied the tonsorial chair over which he presided. One day Professor Tyndall asked Dr. Dickenson if he knew of a good barber, and the doctor told him of our loquacious friend. "But," said he, "although he is an excellent barber you must be careful not to say a word to him; otherwise he will never let up on you."

The next day the professor went in to get shaved, and remindful of what the doctor had said he maintained a discreet silence and steadily resisted all attempts at conversation on the part of the barber. The next day after, Dr. Dickenson went in to get shaved. "Do you know who that quiet, elderly gentleman was whom you shaved yesterday," he asked.

"Why, no," said the barber." "I only know I couldn't get a word out of him."

"Well," replied the doctor, "that was Professor Tyndall, the celebrated physicist."

"You don't say," exclaimed the barber, flourishing his razor emphatically. "I only wish I had known it: I would have upset all of his theories in five minutes."—Brooklyn Life.

No Mistake.

"By the way," remarked a resident of an up town thoroughfare to a casual acquaintance a morning or two ago, "do you know a man calling himself Samuel Thompson, a big fellow about 40, who wears a bushy beard?"

"Never knew such a man in my life," replied the other somewhat brusquely. "Why do you inquire?"

"Oh, such a person came to my office yesterday, introduced himself, said he was acquainted with you and asked me to lend him $10."

"The scoundrel! And I suppose you let him have the money upon the strength of his representation of knowing me? Well, it's your loss. I don't know him and don't intend to be held responsible for a single cent."

"But you are hasty," remarked the first speaker, "and," he added, "your conclusions are entirely erroneous. It was upon the strength of his representations of knowing you that I refused to lend him the money, and I see I made no mistake in doing so."—New York Herald.

Bad Luck.

Perhaps there has not been a better illustration of the state of mind of those unfortunate persons who are called pessimists, who think that everything is as bad as it can be, but is going to be worse, than is contained in a remark made by one of their number recently.

A party of people had been spending the evening at a friend's house, where the pessimist had seemed to set himself forth as the sole and peculiar victim of all the ills of the universe. As the party came out into the open air, the pessimist in advance, he exclaimed:

"This is always the way! Such things never happen except to me!"

"What's happened to you now?"

"Why, don't you see? It rains!"—Youth's Companion.

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its torture, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription." I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

A Put Up Job.

"Girls," he said dejectedly as he sat with his head resting on his hand, "girls make me weary."

"What's the matter now?" inquired his mother.

"Well," he went on spasmodically, "I went to see that Linwood girl last night; she's been holding me off for a month; wanted me to pop. I'm sure; kept hinting every night I went there that I was staying too late, but I never took the hint; girls have a way of shying at a chap in that style; they read about it in the papers; last night I made up my mind to nail her to the mast; talked right along for I don't know how long; girl yawned two or three times, but I never let up; finally I got where I thought was the place to make the break, and was just on the point of asking her when the clock began to strike; I counted up to 12 and had no idea it was so late; clock kept on striking, and I kind of gagged and had to stop for it; it didn't stop, though; girl began to snigger; clock kept right on; then I began to get warm; when the old clock had struck 67, it laid down and quit; then before I had a chance to get my second wind the old man sung out from the head of the stairs, 'Say, Lizzie, if that fellow is going to remain much longer after the clock has struck 67 he won't get home till some time next week, will he?' and I got up and left. Now, what do you think of that, mother?" and the mother got the camphor bottle and gave it to her boy.—Detroit Free Press.

NO OTHER.

The only penny paper in Lowell receiving cable and telegraphic dispatches is THE SUN. We print the latest news of the world up to the time of going to press with each edition.

E. MOODY BOYNTON is endeavoring to get his bicycle railroad constructed as soon as the Meigs of which it is a rival. Lowell is for the Meigs system.

PAYMASTER WAINRIGHT of the Arlington mills in Lawrence, had a long letter in the Lawrence Sunday Sun, on the new disease. He is a gentleman and a scholar.

THE SPRINGFIELD Union has inaugurated a crusade against gambling machines, citing chapter 99 of the public statutes as prohibiting such abuses. If this law prohibits gambling machines in Springfield it should have the same effect in Lowell.

THE FALL River Globe says that indiscriminate parsimony on the part of cities or towns explains why so many farms are deserted in New England. Poor roads, poor schools, poverty-stricken residents and miserable work houses are the result.

THE HAVERHILL Gazette says that England must be forced to take part in an international congress to establish the ratio between silver and gold. The only way America can force John Bull into such a conference is by striking him in the pocket.

OUR GIRL soldiers or our soldier girls, did well in their drill on Friday night. When women learn the use of fire arms and can use them in defence of their country, the objectors to women suffrage will have lost their strongest argument against giving women the ballot.

SOME LOWELL member of the legislature can attain fame by writing a book showing how Lawrence was beaten in the normal school fight after getting the committee on education on its side to start with. Lawrence will attend school in Lowell hereafter.

TWO PRISONERS just liberated from the Lowell jail complained to a newspaper man the other day of ill treatment under the orders of Sheriff Cushing. The sheriff, it would appear, has never heard that in this country all men are free and equal. Men in jail are neither free nor equal.

A SITE might be found near the new Chelmsford street school for the normal school. The training school might then be transferred to the Chelmsford street building in order to have both as nearly together as possible. Chelmsford street would be a sufficiently central location for the normal school. But there may be other location where preferable sites might be.

GOVERNOR GREENHALGE has opportunity that may ever be his to prove that he is not in favor of allowing an oppressive monopoly to grow to such proportions that it can rule the legislature instead of being ruled thereby. Let the governor veto the bill increasing the telephone stock watering bill, and he will have rendered valuable service to the state and struck a heavy blow to one of the most menacing monopolies that has fastened itself upon the commonwealth.

ONE CAUSE OF DELAY.

Republican papers are railing at the delay of congress in passing the tariff bill overlooking the fact that republicans in both branches caused all the delay they possibly could by filibustering tactics. There is one point that is generally overlooked in this matter, viz: It is easier to impose tariff duties than to take them off. When such duties are imposed it is done on the very plausible pretext of protecting industries and labor and when any attempt is made to remove such duties no matter how unjust or excessive they are, a great howl is raised by the industries affected and by republicans who claim to stand for the interests of labor. When McKinley framed his tariff bill he had no opposition in imposing high duties but when Congressman Wilson undertook to reduce the tariff imposes every inch of the ground had to be fought against corporate bodies, republican organizations of various kinds in and out of congress. This is one great cause of delay in the settlement of the tariff question but it is not considered by republicans or indeed by the people in general. But despite the greater obstacles in the path of progress, the tariff bill will soon be passed and it will be passed in little more than the time taken by McKinley & Co., to pass the law which bears his name and which led to nearly all the industrial troubles which have since come upon the country.

FRAUDULENT INSURANCE.

The communication printed in last Friday's SUN regarding the injustice done to certain real estate owners by fire insurance companies is one that should be considered by all who have dealings with such companies. The incident in which the injustice was done occurred in the adjustment of the insurance on one of the buildings destroyed in the Boston fire. The company paid what the building was supposed to be worth when destroyed not what it was insured for which was considerably more. The insurance policy had been running for a number of years and the building had deteriorated very considerably from the time the policy had been taken out. Regardless of this fact the company was expected to pay the face value of the policy. Otherwise there is no use in putting down any amount on the policy. It is plain that some of the companies are a trifle too smart and that they are ready to be unfair if they can do so. It seems the law provides a remedy for such a fraudulent method of adjusting insurance.

THE MAYOR is having a little experience similar to that of an alderman previous to May 1. He has just three places to fill on the license board and there are not less than a dozen candidates who must get the places. The rejection of any one of them will bring the wrath of the gods down upon his head, and shatter his political hopes forever. There is only one consolation in all this dilemma and that is that every other mayor in the state with the exception of those of Boston and Fall River have had or have now the same trouble.

CURRENT CLIPPINGS.

The Present.

The present moment is the sum of time!
The all to come a dreamer's prophecy;
The vast the mingled tumult of a chime
That rung by night into a windy sky.

We not with folded hands to mourn dead days,
Nor idly wait the days that are to be,
For while thou watched they, too, go their ways
To join the ghosts that haunt and harrow thee.

—Charles L. Hildreth in Youth's Companion.

Made Him Feel Bad.

When Professor John Tyndall lived in Brooklyn many years ago, he stood at what was then known as the Dickenson club. It was kept by Dr. Dickenson, who owned a drug store on the ground floor and let out apartments in the upper stories to bachelors. Near the drug store was a barber shop, the proprietor of which was ready at a moment's notice to talk on any subject. His confidence in himself was so great that he never hesitated to set forth his views, no matter who occupied the tonsorial chair over which he presided. One day Professor Tyndall asked Dr. Dickenson if he knew of a good barber, and the doctor told him of our loquacious friend. "But," said he, "although he is an excellent barber you must be careful not to say a word to him; otherwise he will never let up on you."

The next day the professor went in to get shaved, and remindful of what the doctor had said he maintained a discreet silence and steadily resisted all attempts at conversation on the part of the barber. The next day after, Dr. Dickenson went in to get shaved. "Do you know who that quiet, elderly gentleman was whom you shaved yesterday," he asked.

"Why, no," said the barber." "I only know I couldn't get a word out of him."

"Well," replied the doctor, "that was Professor Tyndall, the celebrated physicist."

"You don't say," exclaimed the barber, flourishing his razor emphatically. "I only wish I had known it; I would have upset all of his theories in five minutes."—Brooklyn Life.

No Mistake.

"By the way," remarked a resident of an up town thoroughfare to a casual acquaintance a morning or two ago, "do you know a man calling himself Samuel Thompson, a big fellow about 40, who wears a bushy beard?"

"Never knew such a man in my life," replied the other somewhat brusquely. "Why do you inquire?"

"Oh, such a person came to my office yesterday, introduced himself, said he was acquainted with you and asked me to lend him $10."

"The scoundrel! And I suppose you let him have the money upon the strength of his representation of knowing me? Well, it's your loss. I don't know him and don't intend to be held responsible for a single cent."

"But you are hasty," remarked the first speaker, "and," he added, "your conclusions are entirely erroneous. It was upon the strength of his representations of knowing you that I refused to lend him the money, and I see I made no mistake in doing so."—New York Herald.

Bad Luck.

Perhaps there has not been a better illustration of the state of mind of those unfortunate persons who are called pessimists, who think that everything is as bad as it can be, but is going to be worse, than is contained in a remark made by one of their number recently.

A party of people had been spending the evening at a friend's house, where the pessimist had seemed to set himself forth as the sole and peculiar victim of all the ills of the universe. As the party came out into the open air, the pessimist in advance, he exclaimed:

"This is always the way! Such things never happen except to me!"

"What's happened to you now?"

"Why, don't you see? It rains!"—Youth's Companion.

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its torture, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription," was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

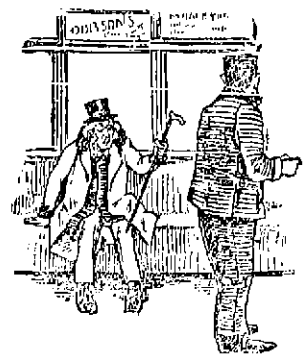

MRS. BAKER.

We think it saved me a great deal of suffering. I was troubled a great deal with leucorrhœa also, and it has done a world of good for me.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. W. C. BAKER.

SUNBEAMS.

Very True.

Old Party in Cable Car—Conductor, what's the matter with this car that it should jerk so?"

Conductor—It's got the grip.—Harper's Bazar.

A Put Up Job.

"Girls," he said dejectedly as he sat with his head resting on his hand, "girls make me weary."

"What's the matter now?" inquired his mother.

"Well," he went on spasmodically, "I went to see that Linwood girl last night; she's been holding me off for a month; wanted me to pop, I'm sure; kept hinting every night I went there that I was staying too late, but I never took the hint; girls have a way of shying at a chap in that style; they read about it in the papers; last night I made up my mind to nail her to the mast; talked right along for I don't know how long; girl yawned two or three times, but I never let up; finally I got where I thought was the place to make the break, and was just on the point of asking her when the clock began to strike; I counted up to 12 and had no idea it was so late; clock kept on striking, and I kind of gagged and had to stop for it; it didn't stop, though; girl began to snigger; clock kept right on; then I began to get warm; when the old clock had struck 67, it laid down and quit; then before I had a chance to get my second wind the old man sung out from the head of the stairs, 'Say, Lizzie, if that fellow is going to remain much longer after the clock has struck 67 he won't get home till some time next week, will he?' and I got up and left. Now, what do you think of that, mother?" and the mother got the camphor bottle and gave it to her boy.—Detroit Free Press.

NEAL DOW

Figures at the International Temperance Congress.

MANY OTHER DISTINGUISHED MEN ALSO PRESENT.

What Maine's Apostle Has to Say.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The international temperance congress convened today in the big tabernacle in Prohibition park, Staten Island. Most of the delegates are here, and several preliminary meetings were held yesterday.

At the principal meeting yesterday, General Neal Dow of Maine was the most conspicuous figure. The venerable apostle of temperance sat in the center of the platform in a big rocking chair, which was covered with roses. Especial honors were paid General Dow, because the gathering delegates were celebrating the 43d anniversary of the signing of the first prohibition law in Maine.

GENERAL NEAL DOW.

General Wager Swayne of this city presided at the meeting. Father Murphy of Montreal offered the opening prayer. Joseph Cook of Boston was the principal speaker. His address was a review of "Sixty years of temperance agitation; what it has accomplished." He paid a high tribute to the work by General Neal Dow in the campaigns for prohibition in Maine.

Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York, then read and formally presented to the meeting an address to General Dow, which had been prepared by the following committee: B. B. Tyler, D. D., James Buckley, D. D., of New York, D. M. Mam, M. D., Mary A. Woodbridge of Chicago, A. J. Kynett, D. D., of Philadelphia, Mary A. Livermore of Boston, Rev. Father Nyland of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dr. Oron Hyatekah of Canada, Rev. J. C. Fernald of New York and Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army. It was signed by about 700 prohibitionists.

General Dow's Remarks.

General Dow accepted the address in a very clear, distinct and silvery voice, and said: "It will not be expected that I should reply to this address or to the many admirable things said about myself. It would be a very difficult thing to do so, because I do not feel that I have done anything to entitle me to so much honor. I have no words to present my appreciation."

He told of the effect of prohibition in Maine, and of the good work being done to secure universal prohibition.

"In that State," he said, "an entire generation has grown up without having seen a grog shop or known the taste of rum. In three-quarters of our territory the rum traffic is unknown."

Among the prominent persons who occupied seats on the platform were Governor Tillman of South Carolina, E. S. Marvin of Rochester, Dr. A. A. Miner of Boston, Mrs. Jusan M. Fessenden of the W. C. T. U., Volney B. Bushing of Bangor, Me., S. H. Hilliard of Boston and Mrs. Ellen J. Finney of Cleveland.

A Desperate Man's Deed.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—George Hill, 42 years of age, a furniture maker of Philadelphia, came here yesterday and attempted to kill his wife Rachel and their youngest son. Hill called to see his wife and shot her four times in the head, neck and wrist. He then shot his son. Mrs. Hill is not expected to live. Hill and his wife, both from Carroll county, had been married about 20 years, but for some months had been separated, he accusing her of unfaithfulness, and she refusing to live with him.

New York's Tax Meeting Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The New York Business Men's association of this city, under whose auspices the mass meeting to protest against the income tax was held last Friday night, continues to be flooded with telegrams from boards of trade, national banks and commercial bodies generally. All of them endorse the association in its opposition to the income tax measure, and come from Maine to Texas.

Arrival of China's Ambassador.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Yen Ching, the Chinese ambassador, was a passenger on the steamer La Champagne, which arrived yesterday from Havre. He has been on a tour of inspection of the European Chinese embassies, and after inspecting the various embassies on this continent, he will return to China and make an official report to the Chinese government.

Socialists Failed to Celebrate.

PARIS, June 4.—The demonstration by the socialists yesterday in commemoration of the bloody week of the commune was abandoned. Attempts were made by the socialists to hold meetings elsewhere, but the police interfered and suppressed them.

Atalanta Off For Glasgow.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The steam yacht Atalanta sailed early yesterday morning for Glasgow. Just before she sailed Howard Gould was handed a dispatch reporting the sighting of the Vigilant on the morning of June 2 by the steamship Rhaetia.

Suspected of Burglary.

BANGOR, Me., June 4.—Sheriff Bickford of Burnham arrested two tramps yesterday, supposed to be the burglars who made the break at Brooks Tuesday night last. They had about $50 on their persons.

Gladstone's Recovery.

LONDON, June 4.—Mr. Gladstone has so far recovered from the effects of the recent operation he underwent for cataract that he drove out yesterday in a closed carriage.

Against Child Labor.

BOSTON, June 4.—The Central Labor union yesterday announced that it would inaugurate a crusade against child labor. The subject will be dealt with June 17.

A Prominent Lawyer's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Ex-Judge John B. Broomall of Media, for 40 years the leader of the bar of Delaware county, and for nearly as long a period pre-eminently the central figure in the affairs of that county, died yesterday at the home of his daughter. He had attained the ripe old age of 78.

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

What President Dole Has to Say on the Annexation Policy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Walter G. Smith, formerly editor of the Hawaiian Star, sends from Honolulu a copy of the following self-explanatory letter received by him from President Dole, dated Honolulu, May 25:

My Dear Sir:—Your letter enclosing communication of Mr. Humphrey, secretary of the National Republican League of the United States, which suggests that some political organization and the provisional government should delegate you to speak for Hawaii and the policy of annexation before the league convention soon to be held in Denver, has waited too long for an answer.

While I agree with you that it would be unwise for the provisional government or the political organizations which support it to become identified with any political party in the United States, when all contain friends and advocates of the annexation policy, I feel that it would be no easy matter to find one who could represent the cause of Hawaii before the convention with more eloquence and enthusiasm than yourself.

Our request for political union with the United States is to the whole American people, and it is not for us to encourage any tendency that may exist to make a party matter of that. With America, it is an America n question, and many of the best minds in all parts are fully enlisted in its favor, not to speak of the great public sentiment which is rapidly mastering the situation.

HELD IN CHECK.

Indiana State Troops Now Hold the Upper Hand Over the Miners.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 4.—State troops marched into Clark's Station yesterday, 500 strong, with a gatling gun, to find that only about 50 miners had stayed to face the music. The militia was drawn up in line along the edge of the woods, and the sheriff read the warrant against the miners for riotous conspiracy, and put three of the leaders under arrest, placing them in jail.

As soon as the troops were in line the railroad men at once repaired the track and the loaded cars were taken on west. The miners who were reported en route to Clark's Station did not materialize, neither had they collected at any point along the Baltimore and Ohio and Southwestern. The certainty that the officers intended to force the law seemed to quell the rebellious feeling among the men.

The miners say that as soon as the troops are withdrawn, they will again stop all coal cars, but anticipating all this, two companies will be stationed at Clark's until all fear of trouble is passed. Everything in this city is now quiet, and there is a general feeling of relief among all classes.

Johnson Island the Prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Johnson Island, the prize for which the provisional government and England are striving in an ocean race between the steamer Illand and H. M. S. Champion, has been the subject of considerable discussion in the past two years. The island was discovered in 1820 by H. M. S. Cornwallis, and named after the captain of that ship. It was examined in 1859 by Lieutenant Brooke of the United States schooner Fenimore Cooper. It is situated 16.44 north, 169.30 west, and is described as being a lagoon island.

Organized Seamen.

BOSTON, June 4.—Every organized seaman who has landed at this port within the past month has affixed his signature to a lengthy petition to congress, asking that the four amendments to the marine laws be adopted as proposed by Representative Maguire of California. The petition will be forwarded to Washington in a few days. The proposed changes are embodied in the Maguire bills now pending. The petition claims that the condition of seamen on United States vessels is below that of the seamen belonging to other countries.

Fun Resulted Fatally.

SHEPPARDSVILLE, Ky., June 4.—Ed. Hortz and Tom Hart were killed near hear Friday afternoon by the carlessness of Lee Eckert, a companion with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to a high bluff and rolled large rocks into the valley below. After a while Hortz and Hart went below to view the damage done by the rolling rocks. While they were in the valley Eckert pried off a large rock, which went down with a tremendous crash, crushing the two boys to death.

Miss Erskine's Suicide.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 4.—The suicide of Miss Lulu Erskine at Peekskill, N. Y., Saturday, caused the profoundest sensation here, where she belongs. Miss Erskine was a daughter of A. J. Erskine. She stood very prominent in social circles, and until Friday, when she suddenly left the city, was a bookkeeper in this city. Temporary insanity, caused by recent sickness, is the ascribed cause. The remains will be forwarded.

Strike In a Buffalo Hotel.

BUFFALO, June 4.—Every waiter, porter and bellboy in the Genesee hotel struck last night. The cause of the strike is an order issued by the proprietor that every employe should remove his hat when entering the office. The proprietor says he will have no trouble in filling the places made vacant by the strike.

The Cuban Budget.

MADRID, June 4.—It is said that the Cuban budget will show a surplus of $25,000, attained by raising the tariff on American imports, lowering the export duty on tobacco and sugar, and admitting Spanish wines free and excluding French and other wines.

Resignation In the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Lowrie Bell, second assistant postmaster general, has resigned his office to accept the position of general traffic manager of the Central New Jersey.

Governor Waite Inexorable.

DENVER, June 4.—Sheriff Bowers made another appeal yesterday to the governor for troops, but so far the demand has proved ineffectual.

Mr. Denon, whose statement follows, has been engaged in the Furniture and House Furnishing business at his place on Dover St. for over 30 years. Read his wonderful statement:

"For the last 3 or 4 years I have been obliged to take a vacation in the Spring. And last March I was feeling unusually miserable. I was so nervous I could not get to sleep some nights until six o'clock in the morning, and when I did sleep would have horrible dreams. A friend came in and recommended

DANA'S SARSAPARILLA

and PILLS. I did not have much faith in patent medicines, but I procured the Sarsaparilla and Pills. Before one bottle was gone I unexpectedly found I was receiving great benefit. My appetite became ravenous, could eat four square meals a day. I have taken four bottles and can sleep all night and get up as fresh as I did 20 years ago. NEAL DOW

Figures at the International Temperance Congress.

MANY OTHER DISTINGUISHED MEN ALSO PRESENT.

What Maine's Apostle Has to Say.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The international temperance congress convened today in the big tabernacle in Prohibition park, Staten Island. Most of the delegates are here, and several preliminary meetings were held yesterday.

At the principal meeting yesterday, General Neal Dow of Maine was the most conspicuous figure. The venerable apostle of temperance sat in the center of the platform in a big rocking chair, which was covered with roses. Especial honors were paid General Dow, because the gathering delegates were celebrating the 43d anniversary of the signing of the first prohibition law in Maine.

GENERAL NEAL DOW.

General Wager Swayne of this city presided at the meeting. Father Murphy of Montreal offered the opening prayer. Joseph Cook of Boston was the principal speaker. His address was a review of "Sixty years of temperance agitation; what it has accomplished." He paid a high tribute to the work by General Neal Dow in the campaigns for prohibition in Maine.

Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York, then read and formally presented to the meeting an address to General Dow, which had been prepared by the following committee: B. B. Tyler, D. D., James Buckley, D. D., of New York, D. M. Munn, M. D., Mary A. Woodbridge of Chicago, A. J. Kynett, D. D., of Philadelphia, Mary A. Livermore of Boston, Rev. Father Nyland of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dr. Oron Hyntekah of Canada, Rev. J. C. Fernald of New York and Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army. It was signed by about 700 prohibitionists.

General Dow's Remarks.

General Dow accepted the address in a very clear, distinct and silvery voice, and said: "It will not be expected that I should reply to this address or to the many admirable things said about myself. It would be a very difficult thing to do so, because I do not feel that I have done anything to entitle me to so much honor. I have no words to present my appreciation."

He told of the effect of prohibition in Maine, and of the good work being done to secure universal prohibition.

"In that State," he said, "an entire generation has grown up without having seen a grog shop or known the taste of rum. In three-quarters of our territory the rum traffic is unknown."

Among the prominent persons who occupied seats on the platform were Governor Tillman of South Carolina, E. S. Marvin of Rochester, Dr. A. A. Miner of Boston, Mrs. Susan M. Fessenden of the W. C. T. U., Volney B. Bushing of Bangor, Me., S. H. Hilllard of Boston and Mrs. Ellen J. Finney of Cleveland.

A Desperate Man's Deed.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—George Hill, 43 years of age, a furniture maker of Philadelphia, came here yesterday and attempted to kill his wife Rachel and their youngest son. Hill called to see his wife and shot her four times in the head, neck and wrist. He then shot his son. Mrs. Hill is not expected to live. Hill and his wife, both from Carroll county, had been married about 20 years, but for some months had been separated, he accusing her of unfaithfulness, and she refusing to live with him.

New York's Tax Meeting Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The New York Business Men's association of this city, under whose auspices the mass meeting to protest against the income tax was held last Friday night, continues to be flooded with telegrams from boards of trade, national banks and commercial bodies generally. All of them endorse the association in its opposition to the income tax measure, and come from Maine to Texas.

Arrival of China's Ambassador.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Yen Ching, the Chinese ambassador, was a passenger on the steamer La Champagne, which arrived yesterday from Havre. He has been on a tour of inspection of the European Chinese embassies, and after inspecting the various embassies on this continent, he will return to China and make an official report to the Chinese government.

Socialists Failed to Celebrate.

PARIS, June 4.—The demonstration by the socialists yesterday in commemoration of the bloody week of the commune was abandoned. Attempts were made by the socialists to hold meetings elsewhere, but the police interfered and suppressed them.

Atalanta Off For Glasgow.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The steam yacht Atalanta sailed early yesterday morning for Glasgow. Just before she sailed Howard Gould was handed a dispatch reporting the sighting of the Vigilant on the morning of June 2 by the steamship Rhaetia.

Suspected of Burglary.

BANGOR, Me., June 4.—Sheriff Bickford of Burnham arrested two tramps yesterday, supposed to be the burglars who made the break at Brooks Tuesday night last. They had about $50 on their persons.

Gladstone's Recovery.

LONDON, June 4.—Mr. Gladstone has so far recovered from the effects of the recent operation he underwent for cataract that he drove out yesterday in a closed carriage.

Against Child Labor.

BOSTON, June 4.—The Central Labor union yesterday announced that it would inaugurate a crusade against child labor. The subject will be dealt with June 17.

A Prominent Lawyer's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Ex-Judge John B. Broomall of Media, for 40 years the leader of the bar of Delaware county, and for nearly as long a period pre-eminently the central figure in the affairs of that county, died yesterday at the home of his daughter. He had attained the ripe old age of 78.

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

What President Dole Has to Say on the Annexation Policy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Walter G. Smith, formerly editor of the Hawaiian Star, sends from Honolulu a copy of the following self-explanatory letter received by him from President Dole, dated Honolulu, May 25:

My Dear Sir:—Your letter enclosing communication of Mr. Humphrey, secretary of the National Republican League of the United States, which suggests that some political organization and the provisional government should delegate you to speak for Hawaii and the policy of annexation before the league convention soon to be held in Denver, has waited too long for an answer.

While I agree with you that it would be unwise for the provisional government or the political organizations which support it to become identified with any political party in the United States, when all contain friends and advocates of the annexation policy, I feel that it would be no easy matter to find one who could represent the cause of Hawaii before the convention with more eloquence and enthusiasm than yourself.

Our request for political union with the United States is to the whole American people, and it is not for us to encourage any tendency that may exist to make a party matter of that. With America, it is an America n question, and many of the best minds in all parts are fully enlisted in its favor, not to speak of the great public sentiment which is rapidly mastering the situation.

HELD IN CHECK.

Indiana State Troops Now Hold the Upper Hand Over the Miners.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 4.—State troops marched into Clark's Station yesterday, 500 strong, with a gatling gun, to find that only about 50 miners had stayed to face the music. The militia was drawn up in line along the edge of the woods, and the sheriff read the warrant against the miners for riotous conspiracy, and put three of the leaders under arrest, placing them in jail.

As soon as the troops were in line the railroad men at once repaired the track and the loaded cars were taken on west. The miners who were reported en route to Clark's Station did not materialize, neither had they collected at any point along the Baltimore and Ohio and Southwestern. The certainty that the officers intended to force the law seemed to quell the rebellious feeling among the men.

The miners say that as soon as the troops are withdrawn, they will again stop all coal cars, but anticipating all this, two companies will be stationed at Clark's until all fear of trouble is passed. Everything in this city is now quiet, and there is a general feeling of relief among all classes.

Johnson Island the Prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Johnson Island, the prize for which the provisional government and England are striving in an ocean race between the steamer Illand and H. M. S. Champion, has been the subject of considerable discussion in the past two years. The island was discovered in 1820 by H. M. S. Cornwallis, and named after the captain of that ship. It was examined in 1859 by Lieutenant Brooks of the United States schooner Fenimore Cooper. It is situated 10.44 north, 169.30 west, and is described as being a lagoon island.

Organized Seamen.

BOSTON, June 4.—Every organized seaman who has landed at this port within the past month has affixed his signature to a lengthy petition to congress, asking that the four amendments to the marine laws be adopted as proposed by Representative Maguire of California. The petition will be forwarded to Washington in a few days. The proposed changes are embodied in the Maguire bills now pending. The petition claims that the condition of seamen on United States vessels is below that of the seamen belonging to other countries.

Fun Resulted Fatally.

SHEPPARDSVILLE, Ky., June 4.—Ed. Hortz and Tom Hart were killed near hear Friday afternoon by the carlessness of Lee Eckert, a companion with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to a high bluff and rolled large rocks into the valley below. After a while Hortz and Hart went below to view the damage done by the rolling rocks. While they were in the valley Eckert pried off a large rock, which went down with a tremendous crash, crushing the two boys to death.

Miss Erskine's Suicide.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 4.—The suicide of Miss Lulu Erskine at Peekskill, N. Y., Saturday, caused the profoundest sensation here, where she belongs. Miss Erskine was a daughter of A. J. Erskine. She stood very prominent in social circles, and until Friday, when she suddenly left the city, was a bookkeeper in this city. Temporary insanity, caused by recent sickness, is the ascribed cause. The remains will be forwarded.

Strike In a Buffalo Hotel.

BUFFALO, June 4.—Every waiter, porter and bellboy in the Genesee hotel struck last night. The cause of the strike is an order issued by the proprietor that every employe should remove his hat when entering the office. The proprietor says he will have no trouble in filling the places made vacant by the strike.

The Cuban Budget.

MADRID, June 4.—It is said that the Cuban budget will show a surplus of $25,000,000, attained by raising the tariff on American imports, lowering the export duty on tobacco and sugar, and admitting Spanish wines free and excluding French and other wines.

Resignation In the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Lowrie Bell, second assistant postmaster general, has resigned his office to accept the position of general traffic manager of the Central New Jersey.

Governor White Inexorable.

DENVER, June 4.—Sheriff Bowers made another appeal yesterday to the governor for troops, but so far the demand has proved ineffectual.

THE KIND THAT CURES

P. M. DENON, Boston, Mass.

A Prominent Business Man OF BOSTON, TELLS OF UNEXPECTED RELIEF

"I Recommend Dana's to All!"

Mr. Denon, whose statement follows, has been engaged in the Furniture and House Furnishing business at his place on Dover St. for over 30 years. Read his wonderful statement:

"For the last Dyr 4 years I have been obliged to take a vacation in the Spring. And last March I was feeling unusually miserable. I was so nervous I could not get to sleep some nights until six o'clock in the morning, and when I did sleep would have horrible dreams. A friend came in and recommended and PILLS. I did not have much faith in patent medicine, but I procured the Sarsaparilla and Pills. Before one bottle was gone I unexpectedly found I was receiving great benefit. My appetite became ravenous, could eat four square meals a day. I have taken four bottles and can sleep all night and get up as fresh as I did 20 years ago. I also had Varicose Veins on my left leg that were very bad, and they are almost well. I recommend DANA'S SARSAPARILLA and PILLS to all. A number of my friends have also been greatly benefited.

Yours very truly, P. M. DENON."

Baltimore is on top again.

It is a pretty race between the first five clubs.

Brooklyn improved it hold on a place in the first division

Boston's victory Saturday did not affect its position, leaving it in fifth place.

John F. Morrill, Boston's old captain, is now dangerously ill at his home in Boston

New York failed to win a single game from St Louis, greatly to the surprise of everyone.

Pitcher Lampe was hit for 16 base hits by an amateur club in South Boston on Memorial Day

Charley Bennett says that Weidman, Derby, Clarkson and Nichols were the greatest pitchers he ever caught.

The pitcher's box at Congress street grounds is soft, and the pitchers claim they have no control of the ball.

With Ganzell in good shape, Boston is all right outside the box, and the pitchers are bound to round to before long

Boston's defeat of Cleveland Saturday put the latter club into second place, tied with Pittsburg and Philadelphia, while the Baltimores have once more crept into first position.

President Young is taking a vote of the clubs on the protested game of Baltimore against Boston on April 25 He will announce the vote as soon as it comes in. It means a lot to the Orioles

BURLINGTON'S BIG BLAZE.

Brodie's Block and Contents Destroyed—Loss Placed at $65,000

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 4 —The Sabbath quiet of this city was disturbed by a fire alarm yesterday, which was sounded shortly after noon for a blaze in Brodie's block on Church street

The entire department responded, and fought one of the most stubborn fires this city has suffered in a long time. The entire block, a four-story structure, was gutted, and of the contents practically nothing was saved.

The total loss is placed at $65,000, with the total insurance $35,000 The block is owned by Kelsey & Brodie, was worth $20,000, and was insured for $9000

The fire department did excellent service, and but for their efficiency and the extremely excellent conditions, the city would undoubtedly have suffered a heavy loss There is no theory as to the origin of the fire

Fatal Result of a Runaway.

HAVERHILL Mass., June 4 —William Collins, a well-known young merchant here, and ex-member of the fire department, while driving last evening with Miss Kate Welsh, had his horse become unmanageable and run away The occupants were thrown out Collins escaped unhurt, but his companion was fatally injured She was taken to the hospital, where her case was declared to be mortal

LACONIA'S SAD FATE.

THE CAR WORKS AND FOUNDRY DESTROYED,

The Loss Will Reach $100,000—Over 150 Workmen Thrown Out of Employment.

LACONIA, N H, June 4 —A fire that broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the Laconia car works destroyed over $100,000 worth of property The car company's loss includes three large buildings in the passenger car department, their entire malleable iron foundry plant, with patterns, etc; also two small dwelling houses.

Considerable damage was done to a large tenement building and other shops, and several passenger coaches and electric street cars in the process of construction and nearly completed were burned.

General Manager Pearley Putnam estimates the value of the property destroyed at $75,000, on which was an insurance of $49,500 A large refrigerator building and office, owned by the Swift Beef company, is a total loss, with contents valued at $10,000 and insured for $5500

A three-story tenement, owned by Orville A. Atkinson of Boston, is also a total loss, value estimated at $4500, insured for about $3000 in Massachusetts

The fire started in the paint shop at the car works. There are indications of incendiarism, as the watchman inspected the building just previous to the discovery of the flames. Manager Putnam states that the car works and foundry will be rebuilt at once

The fire was the most disastrous that Laconia has experienced in years. Only the fact that heavy showers drenched adjoining buildings saved the city from a general conflagration.

Outside Aid Summoned.

Chief Engineer George A. Sanders, finding the fire spreading beyond control, telephoned to the city of Concord for aid. A steamer and hose carriage with 30 men, Chief Davis and Assistant Engineer Brown came on a special train, making the run of 28 miles in 35 minutes. The south-bound Canadian express was held here to keep the line clear.

The Concord firemen were not needed, however, as the flames were under control when they arrived In addition to the losses already reported, scores of workmen in the carshops lost valuable kits of tools, the individual losses in some cases running as high as $200, on which there was no insurance.

Nearly all of the furniture and household goods in the Atkinson tenement block were consumed, as the fire spread so rapidly that there was no time to remove the goods, which were not insured. John Kelley and James Gilpatrick, tenants in the tenement adjoining the paint shop, where the fire started, lost everything, their families barely escaping with their lives in their night clothes.

The most serious blow is the destruction of the malleable iron foundry, which was crowded with orders. A temporary structure has been erected over the large ovens, and the whole available force were put to work today to clear the debris. Orders for lumber are already given, and the work of rebuilding will commence tomorrow.

Death of General Ezeta.

PANAMA, June 4 —In the battle at Santa Ana on May 24, the government troops under General Antonio Ezeta were defeated. General Ezeta died Six hundred soldiers were killed. General Belanes was wounded. President Ezeta has resigned in favor of Carlos Bonilla A counter revolution is sure to break out, as Bonilla is not generally acceptable Possibly General Rivas may become president.

Miss Chase's Sad Fate.

ST LOUIS, June 4.—Miss Ellen J Chase, aged 22, living in the fashionable West End, swallowed the contents of an ounce bottle of carbolic acid, and died in half an hour. No reason is assigned. She was the daughter of Mrs. Henry L. Chase, a widow, whose husband was formerly head of the Chase Bagging company of this city. The family until two years ago lived in Boston.

Iowa's Disastrous Fire.

OTTUMWA, Ia, June 4 —A disastrous fire occurred here yesterday, and five blocks are a mass of ruins. One person was burned to death, one fatally affected by smoke and three others were seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $225,000, about one-third covered by insurance The fire is supposed to have originated from the spark of a locomotive.

Lithograph Firm In Trouble.

SPRINGFIELD, O, June 4 —The Winter Art Lithograph company, one of the largest establishments of the kind in the west, have applied for a receiver Liabilities, $175 000 assets, $75 000. They furnished the World's fair lithographs, and are now engaged in publishing the book of the builders of the Columbian Memorial Publication society.

Hedervary's Embarrassment.

VIENNA, June 4 —Count Hedervay, who was attempting to form a ministry in Hungary to succeed that of Dr. Wekerle, has telegraphed to Emperor Francis Joseph that he is unable to form a cabinet. The emperor has started for Buda Pesth in deference to Count Hedervary's desire that his majesty show himself to the people

Coxeyites Sent Back.

ELLIS, Kan., June 4.—The eastward progress of a band of commonwealers came to an unexpected end last evening here, and instead of being sent on to Kansas City they were hustled back to Denver under a guard of United States deputy marshals. MILLER CAME DOWN.

COUNCILMAN NOBLE AT THE STREET COMMITTEE MEETING.

He Objects to Extra Charge For Grain and Mr Miller Makes a Reduction Before Being Paid His Bill.

There was rather a breezy time at the meeting of the street committee Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of approving bills, and everything went along lovely, until a bill sent in by Joseph Miller, grain dealer, came up for approval There was also a bill from E. N. Wood & Co., and on each appeared, a charge for corn. It seems Miller wanted three cents a bushel more for corn, than was asked by E N Wood & Co. The latter's price was considered a fair one, and Councilman Noble protested against paying more to Miller than to Wood. Some of the committee thought Miller should get his price, but finally Councilman Noble's protest prevailed and a telephone message was sent to Mr. Miller stating the action of the committee. It did not take that gentleman long to decide to bring his price on a par with that asked by Mr Wood and so the bill was approved with the change in price

Then Alderman Lovejoy, Councilmen Kittredge and O'Connell were appointed a committee to interview some Salem parties and see what arrangements can be made to furnish crushed stone to this city.

Councilman Noble wanted to have Broadway macadamized from Suffolk to Marion street. Alderman Lovejoy ruled such a motion out of order on the ground that the appropriation for paving is exhausted Councilman Noble then inquired if paving projects had not been favorably acted upon before when the appropriation was exhausted. Alderman Lovejoy replied in the affirmative but said the point was not raised at the time.

Councilman O'Connell wanted to have a vote taken on a sidewalk petition. The petition was at his home, but that did not prevent a majority of the committee from voting in favor of it.

The chairman was instructed to notify the Locks & Canals Co. to do certain work on the canal bridge near the new Concord river bridge, that was agreed on some time ago as a condition by the city acident to the work on the new bridge.

GRECIAN HEROES.

Laid Almost Lifeless on the Field by Frenchmen.

Some Frenchmen and a few Greeks got into a quarrel in Pawtucketville yesterday. Other interested friends on both sides came to the scene and all joined in to fight for their respective nationalities. It was a furious fight while it lasted. The Greeks got the worst of it and when the police arrived, having been called by telephone one of them, James Melancthon or James Somethingelse was found wounded on the field and removed to the General hospital in the ambulance. One Frenchman was arrested but he say him no beat one Greekman.

Around the Bases.

Baltimore is on top again.

It is a pretty race between the first five clubs.

Brooklyn improved it hold on a place in the first division.

Boston's victory Saturday did not affect its position, leaving it in fifth place.

John F. Morrill, Boston's old captain, is now dangerously ill at his home in Boston.

New York failed to win a single game from St. Louis, greatly to the surprise of everyone.

Pitcher Lampe was hit for 10 base hits by an amateur club in South Boston on Memorial Day.

Charley Bennett says that Weidman, Derby, Clarkson and Nichols were the greatest pitchers he ever caught.

The pitcher's box at Congress street grounds is soft, and the pitchers claim they have no control of the ball.

With Gastzell in good shape, Boston is all right outside the box, and the pitchers are bound to round to before long.

Boston's defeat of Cleveland Saturday put the latter club into second place, tied with Pittsburg and Philadelphia, while the Baltimores have once more crept into first position.

President Young is taking a vote of the clubs on the protested game of Baltimore against Boston on April 25. He will announce the vote as soon as it comes in. It means a lot to the Orioles.

BURLINGTON'S BIG BLAZE.

Brodie's Block and Contents Destroyed—Loss Placed at $65,000.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 4.—The Sabbath quiet of this city was disturbed by a fire alarm yesterday, which was sounded shortly after noon for a blaze in Brodie's block on Church street.

The entire department responded, and fought one of the most stubborn fires this city has suffered in a long time. The entire block, a four-story structure, was gutted, and of the contents practically nothing was saved.

The total loss is placed at $65,000, with the total insurance $35,000. The block is owned by Kelsey & Brodie, was worth $20,000, and was insured for $9000.

The fire department did excellent service, and but for their efficiency and the extremely excellent conditions, the city would undoubtedly have suffered a heavy loss. There is no theory as to the origin of the fire.

Fatal Result of a Runaway.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 4—William Collins, a well-known young merchant here, and ex-member of the fire department, while driving last evening with Miss Kate Welsh, had his horse become unmanageable and run away. The occupants were thrown out. Collins escaped unhurt, but his companion was fatally injured. She was taken to the hospital, where her case was declared to be mortal.

LACONIA'S SAD FATE.

THE CAR WORKS AND FOUNDRY DESTROYED.

The Loss Will Reach $100,000—Over 150 Workmen Thrown Out of Employment.

LACONIA, N. H., June 4.—A fire that broke out at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the Laconia car works destroyed over $100,000 worth of property. The car company's loss includes three large buildings in the passenger car department, their entire malleable iron foundry plant, with patterns, etc.; also two small dwelling houses.

Considerable damage was done to a large tenement building and other shops, and several passenger coaches and electric street cars in the process of construction and nearly completed were burned.

General Manager Pearley Putnam estimates the value of the property destroyed at $75,000, on which was an insurance of $48,500. A large refrigerator building and office, owned by the Swift Beef company, is a total loss, with contents valued at $10,000 and insured for $6300.

A three-story tenement, owned by Orville A. Atkinson of Boston, is also a total loss; value estimated at $4500; insured for about $3000 in Massachusetts.

The fire started in the paint shop at the car works. There are indications of incendiarism, as the watchman inspected the building just previous to the discovery of the flames. Manager Putnam states that the car works and foundry will be rebuilt at once.

The fire was the most disastrous that Laconia has experienced in years. Only the fact that heavy showers drenched adjoining buildings saved the city from a general conflagration.

Outside Aid Summoned.

Chief Engineer George A. Sanders, finding the fire spreading beyond control, telephoned to the city of Concord for aid. A steamer and hose carriage with 30 men, Chief Davis and Assistant Engineer Brown came on a special train, making the run of 26 miles in 35 minutes. The south-bound Canadian express was held here to keep the line clear.

The Concord firemen were not needed, however, as the flames were under control when they arrived. In addition to the losses already reported, scores of workmen in the carshops lost valuable kits of tools, the individual losses in some cases running as high as $200, on which there was no insurance.

Nearly all of the furniture and household goods in the Atkinson tenement block were consumed, as the fire spread so rapidly that there was no time to remove the goods, which were not insured. John Kelley and James Gilpatrick, tenants in the tenement adjoining the paint shop, where the fire started, lost everything, their families barely escaping with their lives in their night clothes.

The most serious blow is the destruction of the malleable iron foundry, which was crowded with orders. A temporary structure has been erected over the large ovens, and the whole available force were put to work today to clear the debris. Orders for lumber are already given, and the work of rebuilding will commence tomorrow.

Death of General Ezeta.

PANAMA, June 4.—In the battle at Santa Ana on May 24, the government troops under General Antonio Ezeta were defeated. General Ezeta died. Six hundred soldiers were killed. General Deflame was wounded. President Ezeta has resigned in favor of Carlos Bonilla. A counter revolution is sure to break out, as Bonilla is not generally acceptable. Possibly General Rivas may become president.

Miss Chase's Sad Fate.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Miss Ellen J. Chase, aged 22, living in the fashionable West End, swallowed the contents of an ounce bottle of carbolic acid, and died in half an hour. No reason is assigned. She was the daughter of Mrs. Henry L. Chase, a widow, whose husband was formerly head of the Chase Bagging company of this city. The family until two years ago lived in Boston.

Iowa's Disastrous Fire.

OTTUMWA, Ia., June 4.—A disastrous fire occurred here yesterday, and five blocks are a mass of ruins. One person was burned to death, one fatally affected by smoke and three others were seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $225,000, about one-third covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from the spark of a locomotive.

Lithograph Firm In Trouble.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 4.—The Winter Art Lithograph company, one of the largest establishments of the kind in the west, have applied for a receiver. Liabilities, $175 000; assets, $75,000. They furnished the World's fair lithographs, and are now engaged in publishing the book of the builders of the Columbian Memorial Publication society.

Hedervary's Embarrassment.

VIENNA, June 4.—Count Hedervay, who was attempting to form a ministry in Hungary to succeed that of Dr. Wekerlu, has telegraphed to Emperor Francis Joseph that he is unable to form a cabinet. The emperor has started for Budu Pesth in deference to Count Hedervary's desire that his majesty show himself to the people.

Coxeyites Sent Back.

ELLIS, Kan., June 4.—The eastward progress of a band of commonwealers came to an unexpected end last evening here, and instead of being sent on to Kansas City they were hustled back to Denver under a guard of United States deputy marshals. On Saturday morning about 75 "Wealers" came in from Denver over the Union Pacific road. Superintendent Brinkerhoff, after communicating with General Attorney Williams, of Topeka, decided that the men must not be hauled.

MILLER CAME DOWN.

COUNCILMAN NOBLE AT THE STREET COMMITTEE MEETING.

He Objects to Extra Charge For Grain and Mr. Miller Makes a Reduction Before Being Paid His Bill.

There was rather a breezy time at the meeting of the street committee Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of approving bills, and everything went along lovely, until a bill sent in by Joseph Miller, grain dealer, came up for approval. There was also a bill from E. N. Wood & Co., and on each appeared, a charge for corn. It seems Miller wanted three cents a bushel more for corn, than was asked by E. N. Wood & Co. The latter's price was considered a fair one, and Councilman Noble protested against paying more to Miller than to Wood. Some of the committee thought Miller should get his price, but finally Councilman Noble's protest prevailed and a telephone message was sent to Mr. Miller stating the action of the committee. It did not take that gentleman long to decide to bring his price on a par with that asked by Mr. Wood and so the bill was approved with the change in price.

Then Alderman Lovejoy, Councilmen Kittredge and O'Connell were appointed a committee to interview some Salem parties and see what arrangements can be made to furnish crushed stone to this city.

Councilman Noble wanted to have Broadway macadamized from Suffolk to Marion street. Alderman Lovejoy ruled such a motion out of order on the ground that the appropriation for paving is exhausted. Councilman Noble then inquired if paving projects had not been favorably acted upon before when the appropriation was exhausted. Alderman Lovejoy replied in the affirmative but said the point was not raised at the time.

Councilman O'Connell wanted to have a vote taken on a sidewalk petition. The petition was at his home, but that did not prevent a majority of the committee from voting in favor of it.

The chairman was instructed to notify the Locks & Canals Co. to do certain work on the canal bridge near the new Concord river bridge, that was agreed on some time ago as a condition by the city acident to the work on the new bridge.

GRECIAN HEROES.

Laid Almost Lifeless on the Field by Frenchmen.

Some Frenchmen and a few Greeks got into a quarrel in Pawtucketville yesterday. Other interested friends on both sides came to the scene and all joined in to fight for their respective nationalities. It was a furious fight while it lasted. The Greeks got the worst of it and when the police arrived, having been called by telephone one of them, James Melancthon or James Somethingelse was found wounded on the field and removed to the General hospital in the ambulance. One Frenchman was arrested but he say him no beat one Greekman.

A Boy Missing.

John Wiley, aged 7 years, is missing from his home on Middlesex street, since Saturday afternoon. He was sent on an errand to his aunt's house in Centralville, about 4 o'clock that afternoon, and as he did not return home that night, his mother concluded that he had remained with his aunt over night. She found out, however, in going there yesterday morning that he had not put in an appearance there at all. She then reported the matter at the police station, fearing that he had been kidnapped. It is thought he will turn up all right.

ON THE SCAFFOLD.

REV. FR. EMERY, O. M. I., ATTENDS AN EXECUTION

And Comforts a Negro in Dying—The Condemned Man Died a Sincere Penitent and a Catholic—Another Doomed Man Also Converted.

A San Antonio paper gives a long account of the execution of a negro named Brown who was attended in prison and on the scaffold by Rev. Fr. Emery, O. M. I. Brown had been a well known criminal who never took any stock in religion, never believed in God at all perhaps. In prison he was converted by Rev. Fr. Emery and became a most devout Catholic. On the scaffold the condemned man prayed fervently and attempted to make a speech before the black cap was placed on his head and fell back in a faint. He fell into Rev. Fr. Emery's arms who told him to speak no more if it was so severe upon him. In what he said Brown thanked the sheriff, asked God to bless all who had befriended him. He thanked Rev. Fr. Emery and said he was confident that all his sins had been forgiven and that he would be admitted to the company of the blest in heaven. His last words after bidding good-by to all were an imploration for mercy from on high. Another condemned man named Guiles in the same prison was also converted by Rev. Fr. Emery but was not quite so fervent as Brown. The San Antonio paper gave a picture of the execution scene showing Rev. Fr. Emery in his surplice with the prisoner on the scaffold while a vast multitude of spectators crowded around on all sides.

HE WANTED MONEY.

A Bold Importuner at Hanson's Stable Yesterday.

Walter L. Archer, a former employe at C. H. Hanson's stable on Rock street, was arrested for drunkenness this afternoon, and it is said a chargé of assault and battery will be brought against him tomorrow.

It is said he went to the stable and demanded money from the proprietor, and when the latter refused to give it to him, struck him in the face.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT.

The Lowell Battalion Beaten at Reading.

About 5000 spectators attended the fifth annual field day of the Second Mass. High School regiment at Reading, Saturday. Many of those present were friends of the out-of-town soldiers.

The battalions were ordered to report at 9 o'clock but it was 9.30 o'clock before all had arrived. In the competitive drills, which began shortly afterward all the battalions did very well. Nearly all had some particular "fine point" and from the start the start the Gloucester battalion was put down of the winner of the tri-color.

The judges were Maj. E. W. M. Bailey of the 8th infantry, Amesbury; Capt. W. F. Peck of Salem and Adjt. Souther of Boston.

The results follow, the possible number of points being 210.

Gloucester	171	Wakefield	141
Lynn classical	152	Andover	140
Lowell	143	Reading	138
Lynn English	143	Chelsea	120
Woburn	142

The individual prize drill followed, and there were many entries.

The first prize was won by Adjt; Harry T. Lummus, Lynn classical; second, Sergt. A. E. Kimball, Lynn English; third, G. B. Frazier, Woburn. Lowell failed to win a badge. All prizes were gold medals.

In the athletic contests which followed Lowell had several entries, but failed to win an event.

The officer of the day was Lieut. Edw. E. Copeland of Reading.

Dinner was served in the big tent in the adjoining field. After dinner the regiment lined up for review and the next feature was the big parade through the principal streets.

After the parade the boys lined up in the field again and the prize winners were announced and the trophies awarded. There was tremendous cheering when it was announced that Gloucester for the fourth time had won the tri-color in a competitive drill. The victors were escorted home by a crowd of Gloucester youths, carrying brooms. The Lowell battalion arrived home at eight o'clock.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

John H. Ring Recommended For License Commissioner—Other Matters Considered.

The newly elected delegates to the Central Labor union, presented their credentials at the meeting of the union yesterday, and were obligated. There were five delegates present from each of the following unions;

Textile workers No. 68, Justice Assembly K. of L., Building Laborers, Cotton Spinners, Granite Cutters, Loomfixers, Social Assembly K. of L., Stott's Textile union No. 70, and Textile union No. 60 of Dracut.

The election of officers consumed but very little time as all of last terms' officials with the exception of L. W. Weeks, the recording secretary were re-elected. Mr. Weeks declined to serve any longer, and A. McCullough was chosen in his place. The board of government is now composed of the following officers: John Meehan, president; William B. Grierson, vice president; William Buckley, treasurer: A. McCullough, recording secretary; William Rafferty, financial secretary. Trustees—Amos Kendall of the granite cutters; Daniel Moynahan of the building laborers; William B. Grierson of Justice Assembly, K. of L.

William B. Grierson and Daniel Moynahan were appointed a committee to audit the accounts of the financial secretary. They did so and found them correct.

Cornelius Buckley sent in a bill for four dollars for witness fees in the case of the C. L. U., against the Caledonian club. The bill was lost to notice by being consigned to the company of waste paper. The members of the union say they have reasons for refusing to honor the claim of Mr. Buckley.

A motion was offered and passed that hereafter, until Sept. 1, the union hold semi-monthly meetings.

It was voted to allow the Loomfixers' union the use of Central Labor union hall on August 11 and 12. The convention of the International Textile workmen will be held on the former date.

The organizing, legislative and entertainment committees were then announced, being made up of one delegate from each of the unions represented in the C. L. U.

John H. Ring For the Commission.

For license commissioner, Mr. John H. Ring.

Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the Central Labor union, although that body had unanimously chosen President Meehan.

Mr. Meehan positively refused to allow his name to be used in connection with the commission, and so Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the union, and Messrs. Kendall, Connolly and Moynahan were appointed a committee to present him to Mayor Pickman.

The debate leading up to the passage of the motion requesting the C.L.U. to name one of its delegates as a license commissioner, was very lively.

One of the delegates felt quite certain that the mayor could not refuse this request of the C.L.U. He is only waiting to appoint a man who has received such an endorsement.

He also believed it would be political suicide for the mayor to place on the commission some of the candidates who have already announced themselves.

Mr. Buckley expressed the belief that the mayor has already decided upon the commissioners and this action by the C. L. U. is only a farce.

Another delegate believed this to be the proper time to make the demand for this position. The mayor cannot refuse us, when we are 3000 strong.

Delegate Connelly admired the sentiment that prompted such action but requested the delegates not to act too hastily, as the passage of such a motion might do more harm than good.

A ballot was then taken and the votes were divided among several candidates, but finally the list narrowed down to three names and Mr. Ring was chosen.

Delegate Rafferty then brought up the matter of choosing a delegate to represent the union at the political convention to be held in Boston June 18, but it was voted to lay the matter over for one week and refer the question to the various unions and get an expression of opinion.

The meeting then adjourned.

A RETIRING FOREMAN.

Mr. William E. Gilmore's Good Qualities Recognized by His Friends of the Sun.

THE SUN editorial room on Saturday afternoon was the scene of a pleasant little event which will long be remembered by every one who was present particularly by Wm. E. Gilmore who for thirteen years has faithfully labored for the welfare of the paper and its job department in the capacity of foreman of the latter establishment. The little event, aboved mentioned was a gathering of the men who make THE SUN from the "lord of the manor" down to the "devil" himself to express their respect and esteem for their fellow worker, Mr. Gilmore who was about to retire from the service for the popular foreman began a business for himself, in Manchester, N. H., today.

The crowd came together about 4.30 o'clock and began the exercises with a toast to the health of Mr. Gilmore. Then after partaking of a repast gotten up by Caterer Maguire, the "speech-making" portion of the exercises began. City Treasurer Harrington had a few witticisms left over from the Pearson banquet, and he was allowed to speak first. After dwelling upon Mr. Gilmore's many good qualities both in and out of business, he presented him, in behalf of his associates at the SUN office a beautiful open faced gold watch with chain and charm, such as Jeweller Wood of Central street claims to be the finest in Lowell. The watch was inscribed on the inside cover: "Presented Wm. E. Gilmore by his Associates of THE LOWELL DAILY SUN, June 2, 1894." The recipient was much affected by the gift which to him was a genuine surprise and it was with difficulty that he found words to express his thanks which were heart felt. Remarks were also made by Messrs. Gallagher, Maguire, Reidy, Myers, McCurdy, Mulligan and Hearn, and by Messrs. McCaffrey, Riley and Holloran who had served as appentices under the popular foreman. They were all sorry to part Mr. Gilmore who was one of the most competent printers in the business, besides being a "prince of good fellows. He leaves behind him a host of friends who will join with the employes of THE SUN in wishing him success and prosperity in his new business.

Some Political Matters.

THE SUN was mistaken it seems in naming Philip J. Farley as a candidate for the license commission. He is not a candidate although his name was mentioned as one of the men whom Mayor Pickman might select.

The name of James Gookin was also mixed up with the councilmanic candidates from Ward Six. He is not running for the council, but is in the representative fight to stay—so they say.

Among the councilmanic candidates are Mr. McGlinchey who is a member of the city committee and a good worker in politics. His friends say he is a winner. Dennis O'Neil is also working hard and has many friends. He is also a member of the committee. Benjamin Preston is in the race and making long strides for the goal. The other candidates have already been mentioned. Mr. Thornton says he is not a candidate.

This Morning's Alarm.

An electric wire becoming crossed with a fire alarm wire on East Merrimack street where the bridge is being torn down this forenoon, caused the firemen considerable bother. When the wires became crossed the bells began to ring and the indication showed up box 132, which is situated on West Sixth street. A portion of the department went over to Centralville but found no sign of a fire and returned to find the cause of the trouble was a "cross."

THE VETERAN FIREMEN.

They Entertain a Parting and Esteemed Comrade.

The Veteran firemen extended a farewell to their old comrade, William E. Gilmore, Saturday night. One of those famous clambakes was served, and "Billy" was complimented again and again until it must have been quite evident to him that he had none but friends and well wishers among his acquaintances in this city. Mr. Gilmore has always taken an active part in the work of the association and in every contest he was found holding the nozzle of the hose, while the other "boys," worked the "old masheen" Dr. Gerrish read an original poem, an extract of which is as follows:

"Upon his like, we ne'er shall look,
All rounder, as he is,
Sharp sighted, when the pipe he took,
We all knew he meant 'biz.'
Right with us, heart and soul, he stood,
From first to last a man,
Who's always counselled all that's good,
Gainsay it—no man can.
Now, here we break the parting tie,
That's bound us all so fast.
Although his duties, distant lie,
He's with us to the last."

The Public Library.

MR. EDITOR:

I wish to make a suggestion in regard to the delivery of books at the city library.

Under the present arragement names are called out in a timid, bashful voice, and if a person happens to be across the room it is impossible to distinguish them. In the Boston public library when books are ready for delivery, the clerks strike a gong, and the names are called out in a loud, clear tone of voice. Would not that be a good method to adopt in our library?

COMMITTEE ON COMMONS

Discusses the Evolution of a Common Horse.

The committee on commons kept up the gait struck by the street committee, Saturday.

The street committee kicked—so did the committee on commons. The latter committee met to approve bills, and when one bill was presented calling for $150 for a horse, the members looked at each other. "And they wore a worried look."

Alderman C. R. Johnson wanted to know all about the horse, and who purchased it.

Chairman Dunlap replied that he is chairman of all sub-committees, and Alderman Johnson admitted that. The chairman and a committee was appointed to purchase a horse, and as chairman he did the purchasing, and if the committee is not satisfied, he will buy the animal from the committee for $150. After a little discussion the bill was approved.

It was then decided to ask the city council for an appropriation of $1000 for Tyler park. It was also decided, after a lengthy discussion, to transfer two or more men from Fort Hill park to Tyler park.

SUGAR

To Receive Attention of Senate This Week.

EVENING SESSIONS WILL PROBABLY BE HELD.

State Bank to be Considered by House.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The sugar schedule will again this week be the central point around which the proceedings in the senate will devolve.

Among numerous senators who were asked for their opinion as to when the debate on this schedule would cease, not one would attempt to fix a definite time. The discussion has already proceeded for three days, which is the utmost time the Democratic senators would admit before the debate was begun, would be necessary or allowed to it. Some think it will be possible to reach a verdict tomorrow, while others assert that there are contingencies which may postpone the disposition of the schedule until the latter part of the week.

The Plan of Campaign.

Among other lines of policy which have been conversed among the opponents of the bill, is that of allowing the sugar schedule to be accepted as amended by the committee on finance, without taking any vote on the schedule in committee of the whole, the object being that the opponents of the bill shall not be forced to show their hands at this time, and especially that they may refrain from exhibiting their superior strength among Democratic and Populist senators.

Senator Harris adheres to his determination to ask the senate to prolong its daily sessions into the evening. Some of the Republican senators have taken his notice to mean that he will ask the senate to sit until the sugar schedule shall be disposed of, but conversation with him and with other Democratic senators indicates that his purpose is hardly so definite, but indicates that the intention is to press as near to the goal as it may be possible to do They say that the speeches of the past few days indicated that the sugar subject is one prolific of talk, and that they want to give opportunity to dispose of as much of the talk as possible within reasonable hours.

The House Program.

The outlook for the week in the house of representatives is so much in doubt that a Democratic caucus may be necessary to agree on a plan of action.

The state bank question has been debated until the leaders are anxious for a vote.

As the state bank principle was incorporated in the Democratic platform, the leaders are loath to see the bill defeated, so that a caucus tomorrow may be called for the purpose of formulating a party plan which will command united support. It is probable that the final vote on the bill will be taken early in the week unless the whole question is allowed to go over until a caucus committee can frame a satisfactory bill

The rules committee are considering the advisability of giving one day to Representative Cooper's bill for subjecting greenbacks and Sherman notes to state and local taxation. At present these forms of paper money are exempt from taxation.

The new driver of the patrol wagon has not yet been appointed, but it is safe to say that Hostler James Kilburn, in the line of promotion should have the position, will get it, and a hostler appointed from outside.

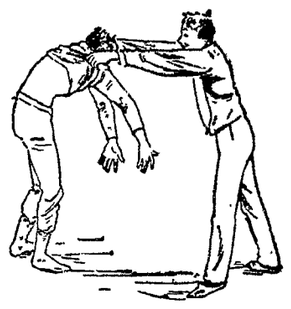

One officer is now on duty at the two commons and Fort Hill park.

LICENSE COMMISSION.

Mayor Pickman's Choice a Matter of Conjecture.

It seems to be the general opinion about town today, that Mayor Pickman will appoint Harry R. Rice on the license commission. The mayor and Mr. Rice have been close friends during the past twenty-five years and have been associated in various organizations. Mr. Rice has never sought nor held a political office and is strongly indorsed by leading men of both parties for a commissionership.

It is not probable that Mayor Pickman will refuse the request of Mr. Rice's friends and it is considered by many as a poor stroke of policy on his part should the place go to some one other than Mr. Rice. Weaver, Paige, Thompson, Crowley, and some others are also mentioned.

It is stated that Hon George A. Marden is a candidate for the commission.

Words for the Wise.

Charles A. Hoitt & Co. having bought the entire stock of goods of Manning & Leighton's assignee, John E. Randall, of Boston, are marking the same at such prices that the entire stock will sell during the five days beginning Tuesday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock.

There will be a full force of salesmen and sales ladies, and Mr. Hoitt promises prompt and courteous treatment throughout the entire sale, and Messrs. Manning & Leighton and their full force will be connected with the sale.

Have patience and wait for your delivery and all will be correctly and satisfactorily done. This is a bona fide sale and store will be vacated the first of the coming month, and early customers will get the advantage of single and odd pieces. It is worth your attention, even if there is not an article for your house you are in need of.

Chas. H. Hoitt & Co., have taken every piece of straw matting in the entire stock measuring from five to eighteen yards, marked and piled in one pile until it measured more than a cord; these mattings cost at wholesale to import from sixteen to twenty-five cents and you can buy any piece at 5 cents a yard, a chance of a life time to carpet a room at a very small sum. Every carpet in the entire stock has been reduced in price one half, many much more and remnants. Five small rolls halved again until there are great bargains. Bring your measure and for small rooms you can get carpets at one fourth the original price. Remember there are many choice patterns in moquettes, Brussels, tapestries, wool and unions and a stock of five hundred rolls of straw mattings second to none in the state or New England.

Milk Can Stolen.

The summer is with us again, and so are the sneak thief and the tramps. Residents of Varney street complain that the meanest kind of a thief is the one who is operating that vicinity and relieving them of the milk left on their doorsteps early in the morning by the milkman. One resident says that there is no punishment too severe for such a scoundrel.

ON THE SCAFFOLD.

REV. FR. EMERY, O. M. I., ATTENDS AN EXECUTION

And Comforts a Negro in Dying—The Condemned Man Died a Sincere Penitent and a Catholic—Another Doomed Man Also Converted.

A San Antonio paper gives a long account of the execution of a negro named Brown; who was attended in prison and on the scaffold by Rev. Fr. Emery, O. M. I. Brown had been a well known criminal who never took any stock in religion, never believed in God at all perhaps. In prison he was converted by Rev. Fr. Emery and became a most devout Catholic. On the scaffold the condemned man prayed fervently and attempted to make a speech before the black cap was placed on his head and fell back in a faint. He fell into Rev. Fr. Emery's arms who told him to speak no more if it was so severe upon him. In what he said Brown thanked the sheriff, asked God to bless all who had befriended him. He thanked Rev. Fr. Emery and said he was confident that all his sins had been forgiven and that he would be admitted to the company of the blest in heaven. His last words after bidding good-by to all were an imploration for mercy from on high. Another condemned man named Guiles in the same prison was also converted by Rev. Fr. Emery but was not quite so fervent as Brown. The San Antonio paper gave a picture of the execution scene showing Rev. Fr. Emery in his surplice with the prisoner on the scaffold while a vast multitude of spectators crowded around on all sides.

HE WANTED MONEY.

A Bold Importuner at Hanson's Stable Yesterday.

Walter L. Archer, a former employe at C. H. Hanson's stable on Rock street, was arrested for drunkenness this afternoon, and it is said a charge of assault and battery will be brought against him tomorrow.

It is said he went to the stable and demanded money from the proprietor, and when the latter refused to give it to him, struck him in the face.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT.

The Lowell Battalion Beaten at Reading.

About 6000 spectators attended the fifth annual field day of the Second Mass. High School regiment at Reading, Saturday. Many of those present were friends of the out-of-town soldiers.

The battalions were ordered to report at 9 o'clock but it was 9.30 o'clock before all had arrived. In the competitive drills, which began shortly afterward all the battalions did very well. Nearly all had some particular "fine point" and from the start the start the Gloucester battalion was put down of the winner of the tri-color.

The judges were Maj. E. W. M. Bailey of the 8th Infantry, Amesbury; Capt. W. F. Peck of Salem and Adjt. Souther of Boston.

The results follow, the possible number of points being 210.

Gloucester	171	Wakefield	141
Lynn classical	152	Andover	140
Lowell	122	Reading	133
Lynn English	143	Chelsea	129
Woburn	142

The individual prize drill followed, and there were many entries.

The first prize was won by Adjt; Harry T. Lummus, Lynn classical; second, Sergt. A. E. Kimball, Lynn English; third, G. B. Frazier, Woburn. Lowell failed to win a badge. All prizes were gold medals.

In the athletic contests which followed Lowell had several entries, but failed to win an event.

The officer of the day was Lieut. Edw. E. Copeland of Reading.

Dinner was served in the big tent in the adjoining field. After dinner the regiment lined up for review and the next feature was the big parade through the principal streets.

After the parade the boys lined up in the field again and the prize winners were announced and the trophies awarded. There was tremendous cheering when it was announced that Gloucester for the fourth time had won the tri-color in a competitive drill. The victors were escorted home by a crowd of Gloucester youths, carrying brooms. The Lowell battalion arrived home at eight o'clock.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

John H. Ring Recommended For License Commissioner—Other Matters Considered.

The newly elected delegates to the Central Labor union, presented their credentials at the meeting of the union yesterday, and were obligated. There were five delegates present from each of the following unions;

Textile workers No. 68, Justice Assembly K. of L., Building Laborers, Cotton Spinners, Granite Cutters, Loomfixers, Social Assembly K. of L., Stott's Textile union No. 70, and Textile union No. 60 of Dracut.

The election of officers consumed but very little time as all of last terms' officials with the exception of L. W. Weeks, the recording secretary were re-elected. Mr. Weeks declined to serve any longer, and A. McCullough was chosen in his place. The board of government is now composed of the following officers: John Meehan, president; William B. Grierson, vice president; William Buckley, treasurer; A. McCullough, recording secretary; William Rafferty, financial secretary. Trustees—Amos Kendall of the granite cutters; Daniel Moynahan of the building laborers; William B. Grierson of Justice Assembly, K. of L.

William B. Grierson and Daniel Moynahan were appointed a committee to audit the accounts of the financial secretary. They did so and found them correct.

Cornelius Buckley sent in a bill for four dollars for witness fees in the case of the C. L. U., against the Caledonian club. The bill was lost to notice by being consigned to the company of waste paper. The members of the union say they have reasons for refusing to honor the claim of Mr. Buckley.

A motion was offered and passed that hereafter, until Sept. 1, the union hold semi-monthly meetings.

It was voted to allow the Loomfixers' union the use of Central Labor union hall on August 11 and 12. The convention of the International Textile workmen will be held on the former date.

The organizing, legislative and entertainment committees were then announced, being made up of one delegate from each of the unions represented in the C. L. U.

John H. Ring For the Commission.

For license commissioner, Mr. John H. Ring.

Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the Central Labor union, although that body had unanimously chosen President Meehan.

Mr. Meehan positively refused to allow his name to be used in connection with the commission, and so Mr. Ring received the endorsement of the union, and Messrs. Kendall, Connolly and Moynahan were appointed a committee to present him to Mayor Pickman.

The debate leading up to the passage of the motion requesting the C.L.U. to name one of its delegates as a license commissioner, was very lively.

One of the delegates felt quite certain that the mayor could not refuse this request of the C.L.U. He is only waiting to appoint a man who has received such an endorsement.

He also believed it would be political suicide for the mayor to place on the commission some of the candidates who have already announced themselves.

Mr. Buckley expressed the belief that the mayor has already decided upon the commissioners and this action by the C. L. U. is only a farce.

Another delegate believed this to be the proper time to make the demand for this position. The mayor cannot refuse us, when we are 3000 strong.

Delegate Connelly admired the sentiment that prompted such action but requested the delegates not to act too hastily, as the passage of such a motion might do more harm than good.

A ballot was then taken and the votes were divided among several candidates, but finally the list narrowed down to three names and Mr. Ring was chosen.

Delegate Rafferty then brought up the matter of choosing a delegate to represent the union at the political convention to be held in Boston June 18, but it was voted to lay the matter over for one week and refer the question to the various unions and get an expression of opinion.

The meeting then adjourned.

A RETIRING FOREMAN.

Mr. William E. Gilmore's Good Qualities Recognized by His Friends of the Sun.

THE SUN editorial room on Saturday afternoon was the scene of a pleasant little event which will long be remembered by every one who was present particularly by Wm. E. Gilmore who for thirteen years has faithfully labored for the welfare of the paper and its job department in the capacity of foreman of the latter establishment. The little event, above mentioned was a gathering of the men who make THE SUN from the "lord of the manor" down to the "devil" himself to express their respect and esteem for their fellow worker, Mr. Gilmore who was about to retire from the service for the popular foreman began a business for himself, in Manchester, N. H., today.

The crowd came together about 4.30 o'clock and began the exercises with a toast to the health of Mr. Gilmore. Then after partaking of a repast gotten up by Caterer Maguire, the "speech-making" portion of the exercises began. City Treasurer Harrington had a few witticisms left over from the Pearson banquet, and he was allowed to speak first. After dwelling upon Mr. Gilmore's many good qualities both in and out of business, he presented him, in behalf of his associates at the SUN office a beautiful open faced gold watch with chain and charm, such as Jeweller Wood of Central street claims to be the finest in Lowell. The watch was inscribed on the inside cover: "Presented Wm. E. Gilmore by his Associates of THE LOWELL DAILY SUN, June 2, 1894." The recipient was much affected by the gift which to him was a genuine surprise and it was with difficulty that he found words to express his thanks which were heart felt. Remarks were also made by Messrs. Gallagher, Maguire, Reidy, Myers, McCurdy, Mulligan and Beard, and by Messrs. McCaffrey, Riley and Holloran who had served as appentices under the popular foreman. They were all sorry to part Mr. Gilmore who was one of the most competent printers in the business, besides being a "prince of good fellows. He leaves behind him a host of friends who will join with the employes of THE SUN in wishing him success and prosperity in his new business.

Some Political Matters.

THE SUN was mistaken it seems in saying Philip J. Farley as a candidate for the license commission. He is not a candidate although his name was mentioned as one of the men whom Mayor Pickman might select.

The name of James Gookin was also mixed up with the councilmanic candidates from Ward Six. He is not running for the council, but is in the representitive fight to stay—so they say.

Among the councilmanic candidates are Mr. McGlinchey who is a member of the city committee and a good worker in politics. His friends say he is a winner. Dennis O'Neil is also working hard and has many friends. He is also a member of the committee. Benjamin Preston is in the race and making long strides for the goal. The other candidates have already been mentioned. Mr. Thornton says he is not a candidate.

A portion of the department went over to Centralville but found no sign of a fire and returned to find the cause of the trouble was a "cross."

THE VETERAN FIREMEN.

They Entertain a Parting and Esteemed Comrade.

The Veteran firemen extended a farewell to their old comrade, William E. Gilmore, Saturday night. One of those famous clambakes was served, and "Billy" was complimented again and again until it must have been quite evident to him that he had none but friends and well wishers among his acquaintances in this city. Mr. Gilmore has always taken an active part in the work of the association and in every contest he was found holding the nozzle of the hose, while the other "boys," worked the "old masheen." Dr. Gerrish read an original poem, an extract of which is as follows:

"Upon his like, we ne'er shall look,
All rounder, as he is,
Sharp sighted, when the pipe he took,
We all know he meant 'biz.'
Right with us, heart and soul, he stood,
From first to last, a man,
Who's always counselled all that's good,
Gainsay it—no man can.
Now, here we break the parting tie,
That's bound us all so fast.
Although his duties, distant lie,
He's with us to the last."

The Public Library.

MR. EDITOR:

I wish to make a suggestion in regard to the delivery of books at the city library.

Under the present arragement names are called out in a timid, bashful voice, and if a person happens to be across the room it is impossible to distinguish them. In the Boston public library when books are ready for delivery, the clerks strike a gong, and the names are called out in a loud, clear tone of voice. Would not that be a good method to adopt in our library?

COMMITTEE ON COMMONS

Discusses the Evolution of a Common Horse.

The committee on commons kept up the gait struck by the street committee, Saturday.

The street committee kicked—so did the committee on commons. The latter committee met to approve bills, and when one bill was presented calling for $150 for a horse, the members looked at each other. "And they were a worried look."

Alderman C. R. Johnson wanted to know all about the horse, and who purchased it.

Chairman Dunlap replied that he is chairman of all sub-committees, and Alderman Johnson admitted that. The chairman and a committee was appointed to purchase a horse, and as chairman he did the purchasing, and if the committee is not satisfied, he will buy the animal from the committee for $150. After a little discussion the bill was approved.

It was then decided to ask the city council for an appropriation of $1000 for Tyler park. It was also decided, after a lengthy discussion, to transfer two or more men from Fort Hill park to Tyler park.

Mr. Wm. H. Moulton of this city is in New York filling an engagement with a dramatic company, and is meeting with great success. He expects to start out with James Mackie of "Grimes Cellar Door" farce, next season, in a new piece entitled "The Side Show."

Drs. Irish and Pillsbury removed a fibroid tumor from Mrs. Daniel H. Gordon at the Lowell General hospital Saturday. The operation was a complicated one and extremely critical, but it has been successful thus far and last evening the patient was reported to be comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Sturtevant entertained a party of 25 of their Lowell friends at their new home in Chelmsford Centre, Saturday evening. Whist was enjoyed, refreshments were served, and a very enjoyable evening was passed. The party returned to the city on the 10.30 car.

The forty hours devotion at the Sacred Heart church closed yesterday and solemn high mass celebrated by Rev. Robert Barrett, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. J. T. Lavoie, O. M. I., deacon, Rev. A. Marion, O. M. I., sub-deacon. The choir directed by Miss Adelaide A. Sullivan rendered the music of the mass with special features in honor of the occasion. After mass the procession of the blessed sacrament was held.

Special Officer Lamoureaux had trouble with Onesime Grondines outside the French church on Lee street yesterday afternoon. When the members of L'Association Catholique marched into the church the crowd blocked up the sidewalk, and among others was Grondines. It seems that Lamoureaux told him to move on and he wouldn't, a scuffle resulted in which Grondines was clubbed. He was booked for assault on an officer and obstructing the street.

SUGAR

To Receive Attention of Senate This Week.

EVENING SESSIONS WILL PROBABLY BE HELD.

State Bank to be Considered by House.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The sugar schedule will again this week be the central point around which the proceedings in the senate will devolve.

Among numerous senators who were asked for their opinion as to when the debate on this schedule would cease, not one would attempt to fix a definite time. The discussion has already proceeded for three days, which is the utmost time the Democratic senators would admit before the debate was begun, would be necessary or allowed to it. Some think it will be possible to reach a verdict tomorrow, while others assert that there are contingencies which may postpone the disposition of the schedule until the latter part of the week.

The Plan of Campaign.

Among other lines of policy which have been conversed among the opponents of the bill, is that of allowing the sugar schedule to be accepted as amended by the committee on finance, without taking any vote on the schedule in committee of the whole, the object being that the opponents of the bill shall not be forced to show their hands at this time, and especially that they may refrain from exhibiting their superior strength among Democratic and Populist senators.

Senator Harris adheres to his determination to ask the senate to prolong its daily sessions into the evening. Some of the Republican senators have taken his notice to mean that he will ask the senate to sit until the sugar schedule shall be disposed of, but conversation with him and with other Democratic senators indicates that his purpose is hardly so definite, but indicates that the intention is to press as near to the goal as it may be possible to do. They say that the speeches of the past few days indicated that the sugar subject is one prolific of talk, and that they want to give opportunity to dispose of as much of the talk as possible within reasonable bonds.

The House Program.

The outlook for the week in the house of representatives is so much in doubt that a Democratic caucus may be necessary to agree on a plan of action.

The state bank question has been debated until the leaders are anxious for a vote.

As the state bank principle was incorporated in the Democratic platform, the leaders are loath to see the bill defeated, so that a caucus tomorrow may be called for the purpose of formulating a party plan which will command united support. It is probable that the final vote on the bill will be taken early in the week unless the whole question is allowed to go over until a caucus committee can frame a satisfactory bill.

The rules committee are considering the advisability of giving one day to Representative Cooper's bill for subjecting greenbacks and Sherman notes to state and local taxation. At present these forms of paper money are exempt from taxation.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Changes Which Went Into Effect Last Evening.

Chief Davis made the following changes in the police department last evening: Officers C. E. Ryder and Hugh Downey are assigned to permanent duty on the patrol wagon, each working a fortnight days and a fortnight at nights, alternately. Officer Whitney is transferred from the 6 o'clock shift on Gorham street to Ryder's day beat in Ward Three; Ingalls, from 6 o'clock relief in the vicinity of Lilley avenue to Whitney's beat; Provencher, from the day beat on Market street, between the two canals, to Ingalls' beat; Holland, from 6 o'clock shift on Market street and the "Acre," to Provencher's day beat; Dunfey, from 12.30 relief, in the vicinity of Gorham street and South common, to Holland's beat; Leighton, from 6 o'clock shift in Ward Three to Dunfey's beat; Ryan, a new man, takes Leighton's beat; Quinn goes from the 6 o'clock shift in the Bleachery district to Downey's 6 o'clock beat on Broadway in the vicinity of the Lowell Hosiery; Mahar, takes Quinn's beat; Stowell, from the 6 o'clock beat on upper Gorham street to a beat covering about the same territory at 12.30; Hogan, takes Stowell's old beat; Whittaker goes from the 6 o'clock beat in Centralville to Dow's 12.30 beat on upper Lawrence street; Dow goes to Jones' 6 o'clock beat between School, Fletcher and Pawtucket streets; Jones is assigned to permanent day duty at the city hall; Officer Kane, takes the vicinity of Fort Hill at 12.30; Maguire, takes an open beat on the middle Market street beat. They begin duty today at 10 o'clock, p. m. and remain on until midnight.

The new driver of the patrol wagon has not yet been appointed, but it is safe to say that Hostler James Kilburn, in the line of promotion should have the position, will get it, and a hostler appointed from outside.

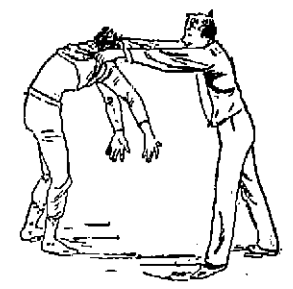

One officer is now on duty at the two commons and Fort Hill park.

PUTNAM & SON,

ONE-PRICE CLOTHIERS,

Central Street, Cor. Warren.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Will Vinton, of Putnam & Son, and Mr. Charles Edwards, will sail for Europe July 4th. Charles R. Costello is going abroad this summer.

Major Thomas B. Jackson of Charlestown, S. C., is visiting in this city.

Amos Adams is visiting friends in Chelmsford.

LICENSE COMMISSION.

Mayor Pickman's Choice a Matter of Conjecture.

It seems to be the general opinion about town today, that Mayor Pickman will appoint Harry R. Rice on the license commission. The mayor and Mr. Rice have been close friends during the past twenty-five years and have been associated in various organizations. Mr. Rice has never sought or held a political office and is strongly indorsed by leading men of both parties for a commissionership.

It is not probable that Mayor Pickman will refuse the request of Mr. Rice's friends and it is considered by many as a poor stroke of policy on his part should the place go to some one other than Mr. Rice. Weaver, Paige, Thompson, Crowley, and some others are also mentioned.

It is stated that Hon George A. Marden is a candidate for the commission.

Words for the Wise.

Charles A. Hoitt & Co. having bought the entire stock of goods of Manning & Leighton's assignee, John E. Randall, of Boston, are marking the same at such prices that the entire stock will sell during the five days beginning Tuesday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock.

There will be a full force of salesmen and sales ladies, and Mr. Hoitt promises prompt and courteous treatment throughout the entire sale, and Messrs. Manning & Leighton and their full force will be connected with the sale.

Have patience and wait for your delivery and all will be correctly and satisfactorily done. This is a bona fide sale and store will be vacated the first of the coming month, and early customers will get the advantage of single and odd pieces. It is worth your attention, even if there is not an article for your house you are in need of.

Chas. H. Hoitt & Co., have taken every piece of straw matting in the entire stock measuring from five to eighteen yards, marked and piled in one pile until it measured more than a cord; these mattings cost at wholesale to import from sixteen to twenty-five cents and you can buy any piece at 6 cents a yard, a chance of a life time to carpet a room at a very small sum. Every carpet in the entire stock has been reduced in price one half, many much more and remnants. Five small rolls halved again until there are great bargains. Bring your measure and for small rooms you can get carpets at one fourth the original price. Remember there are many choice patterns in moquettes, Brussels, tapestries, wool and unions and a stock of five hundred rolls of straw mattings second to none in the state or New England.

Committee Meetings.

Mayor Pickman is free from license commission talk today. He is in Boston.

Hereafter, it is understood that meetings of the committee on fire department will be held at City hall instead of at Chief Hosmer's office.

The committee on accounts will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A regular meeting of the aldermen and an adjourned meeting of the council will be held tomorrow evening.

Milk Can Stolen.

The summer is with us again, and so are the sneak thief and the tramps. Residents of Varney street complain that one more kind of a thief is the one who is operating in that vicinity and relieving them of the milk left on their doorsteps early in the morning by the milkman. One resident says that there is no punishment too severe for such a scoundrel.

ONE CAUSE OF DELAY

Republican papers are railing at the delay of congress in passing the tariff bill overlooking the fact that republicans in both branches caused all the delay they possibly could by filibustering tactics There is one point that is generally overlooked in this matter, viz: it is easier to impose tariff duties than to take them off When such duties are imposed it is done on the very plausible pretext of protecting industries and labor and when any attempt is made to remove such duties no matter how unjust or excessive they are, a great howl is raised by the industries affected and by republicans who claim to stand for the interests of labor. When McKinley framed his tariff bill he had no opposition in imposing high duties but when Congressman Wilson undertook to reduce the tariff imposts every inch of the ground had to be fought against corporate bodies, republican organizations of various kinds in and out of Congress. This is one great cause of delay in the settlement of the tariff question but it is not considered by republicans or influencing the people in general. But despite the greater obstacles in the path of progress, the tariff bill will soon be passed and it will be passed in little more than the time taken by McKinley & Co, to pass the law which bears his name and which led to nearly all the industrial troubles which have since come upon the country.

FRADULENT INSURANCE

The communication printed in last Friday's SUN regarding the injustice done to certain real estate owners by the insurance companies is one that should be considered by all who have dealings with such companies The incident in which the injustice was done occurred in the adjustment of the insurance on one of the buildings destroyed in the Boston fire The company paid what the building was supposed to be worth when destroyed not what it was insured for which was considerably more The insurance policy had been running for a number of years and the building had deteriorated very considerably from the time the policy had been taken out Regardless of this fact the company was expected to pay the face value of the policy Otherwise there is no use in putting down any amount on the policy It is plain that some of the companies are a little too smart and that they are ready to be unfair if they can do so It seems the law provides a remedy for such a fraudulent method of adjusting insurance

THE MAYOR is having a little experience similar to that of an alderman previous to May 1 He has just three places to all on the house board and there are not less than a dozen candidates who must get the places The rejection of any one of them will bring the wrath of the gods down upon his head, and shatter his political hopes forever There is only one consolation in all this delemma and that is that every other mayor in the state with the exception of those of Boston and Fall River have had or have now the same trouble

The Present.

The present moment is the sum of time:
The all to come a dreamer's prophecy,
The past the mingled music of a chime
That rang by night into a windy sky

Sit not with folded hands to mourn dead days,
Nor idly wait the days that are to be
For while thou wait'st they, too go their ways
To join the ghosts that haunt and harrow thee

Made Him Feel Bad

When Professor John Tyndall lived in Brooklyn many years ago he stood at what was then known as the Dickenson club It was kept by Dr Dickenson who owned a drug store on the ground floor and let out apartments in the upper stories to bachelors Near the drug store was a barber shop the proprietor of which was ready at a moment's notice to talk on any subject His confidence in himself was so great that he never hesitated to set forth his views no matter who occupied the tonsorial chair over which he presided One day Professor Tyndall asked Dr Dickenson if he knew of a good barber, and the doctor told him of our loquacious friend But said he, 'although he is an excellent barber you must be careful not to say a word to him, otherwise he will never let up on you"

The next day the professor went in to get shaved, and remindful of what the doctor had said he maintained a discreet silence and steadily resisted all attempts at conversation on the part of the barber The next day after, Dr Dickenson went in to get shaved 'Do you know who that quiet, elderly gentleman was whom you shaved yesterday" he asked

Why, no' said the barber" "I only know I couldn't get a word out of him"

"Well,' replied the doctor 'that was Professor Tyndall, the celebrated physicist"

'You don't say,' exclaimed the barber, flourishing his razor emphatically "I only wish I had known it I would have upset all of his theories in five minutes"—Brooklyn Life

No Mistake

"By the way' remarked a resident of an up town thoroughfare to a casual acquaintance a morning or two ago do you know a man calling himself Samuel Thompson, a big fellow about 40 who wears a bushy beard'

Never knew such a man in my life," replied the other somewhat brusquely 'Why do you inquire"

Oh such a person came to my office yesterday introduced himself said he was acquainted with you and asked me to lend him $10'

'The scoundrel! And I suppose you let him have the money upon the strength of his representation of knowing me? Well it's your loss I don't know him and don't intend to be held responsible for a single cent"

But you are hasty," remarked the first speaker 'and he added 'your conclusions are entirely erroneous It was upon the strength of his representations of knowing you that I refused to lend him the money and I feel I made no mistake in doing so —New York Herald

Perhaps there has not been a better illustration of the state of mind of those unfortunate persons who are called pessimists who think that everything is as bad as it can be but is going to be worse than is contained in a remark made by one of their number recently

A party of people had been spending the evening at a friend's house where the pessimist had seemed to set himself forth as the sole and peculiar victim of all the ills of the universe As the party came out into the open air the pessimist in advance he exclaimed

"This is always the way Such things never happen except to me

A Put Up Job.

"Girls," he said dejectedly as he sat with his head resting on his hand, "girls make me weary'

'What's the matter now" inquired his mother

'Well' he went on spasmodically, "I went to see that Linwood girl last night, she's been holding me off for a month, wanted me to pop I'm sure, kept hinting every night I went there that I was staying too late, but I never took the hint girls have a way of shying at a chap in that style, they read about it in the papers, last night I made up my mind to nail her to the mast, talked right along for I don't know how long, girl yawned two or three times, but I never let up, finally I got where I thought was the place to make the break and was just on the point of asking her when the clock began to strike, I counted up to 12 and had no idea it was so late, clock kept on striking and I kind of gagged and had to stop for it it didn't stop, though, girl began to snigger clock kept right on, then I began to get warm, when the old clock had struck 67, it laid down and quit then before I had a chance to get my second wind the old man sung out from the head of the stairs, 'Say, Lizzie, if that fellow is going to remain much longer after the clock has struck 67 he won't get home till some time next week, will he and I got up and left Now, what do you think of that, mother?' and the mother got the camphor bottle and gave it to her boy —Detroit Free Press

THE FALL River Globe says that indiscriminate parsimony on the part of cities or towns explains why so many farms are deserted in New England. Poor roads, poor schools, poverty-stricken residents and miserable work houses are the result.

THE HAVERHILL Gazette says that England must be forced to take part in an international congress to establish the ratio between silver and gold. The only way American can force John Bull into such a conference is by striking him in the pocket.

OUR GIRL soldiers or our soldier girls, did well in their drill on Friday night. When women learn the use of fire arms and can use them in defence of their country, the objectors to women suffrage will have lost their strongest argument against giving women the ballot.

GOVERNOR GREENHALGE has opportunity that may ever be his to prove that he is not in favor of allowing an oppressive monopoly to grow to such proportions that it can rule the legislature instead of being ruled thereby. Let the governor veto the bill increasing the telephone stock watering bill, and he will have rendered valuable service to the state and struck a heavy blow to one of the most menacing monopolies that has fastened itself upon the commonwealth.

ONE CAUSE OF DELAY.

Republican papers are railing at the delay of congress in passing the tariff bill overlooking the fact that republicans in both branches caused all the delay they possibly could by filibustering tactics. There is one point that is generally overlooked in this matter, viz: It is easier to impose tariff duties than to take them off. When such duties are imposed it is done on the very plausible pretext of protecting industries and labor and when any attempt is made to remove such duties no matter how unjust or excessive they are, a great howl is raised by the industries affected and by republicans who claim to stand for the interests of labor. When McKinley framed his tariff bill he had no opposition in imposing high duties but when Congressman Wilson undertook to reduce the tariff imposts every inch of the ground had to be fought against corporate bodies, republican organizations of various kinds in and out of congress. This is one great cause of delay in the settlement of the tariff question but it is not considered by republicans or indeed by the people in general. But despite the greater obstacles in the path of progress, the tariff bill will soon be passed and it will be passed in little more than the time taken by McKinley & Co., to pass the law which bears his name and which led to nearly all the industrial troubles which have since come upon the country.

FRADULENT INSURANCE.

The communication printed in last Friday's SUN regarding the injustice done to certain real estate owners by fire insurance companies is one that should be considered by all who have dealings with such companies. The incident in which the injustice was done occurred in the adjustment of the insurance on one of the buildings destroyed in the Boston fire. The company paid what the building was supposed to be worth when destroyed not what it was insured for which was considerably more. The insurance policy had been running for a number of years and the building had deteriorated very considerably from the time the policy had been taken out. Regardless of this fact the company was expected to pay the face value of the policy. Otherwise there is no use in paying down any amount on the policy. It is plain that some of the companies are a trifle too smart and that they are ready to be unfair if they can do so. It seems the law provides a remedy for such a fraudulent method of adjusting insurance.

THE MAYOR is having a little experience similar to that of an alderman previous to May 1. He has just three places to fill on the license board and there are not less than a dozen candidates who must get the places. The rejection of any one of them will bring the wrath of the gods down upon his head, and shatter his political hopes forever. There is only one consolation in all this dilemma and that is that every other mayor in the state with the exception of those of Boston and Fall River have had or have now the same trouble.

CURRENT CLIPPINGS.

The Present.

The present moment is the sum of time;
The all to come a dreamer's prophecy;
The cast the mingled music of a chime
That rung by night into a windy sky.

Sit not with folded hands to mourn a dead days,
Nor idly wait the days that are to be.
For while thou watched they, too, go their ways
To join the ghosts that haunt and harrow thee.

—Charles L. Hildreth in Youth's Companion.

Made Him Feel Bad.

When Professor John Tyndall lived in Brooklyn many years ago, he staid at what was then known as the Dickenson club. It was kept by Dr. Dickenson, who owned a drug store on the ground floor and let out apartments in the upper stories to bachelors. Near the drug store was a barber shop, the proprietor of which was ready at a moment's notice to talk on any subject. His confidence in himself was so great that he never hesitated to set forth his views, no matter who occupied the tonsorial chair over which he presided. One day Professor Tyndall asked Dr. Dickenson if he knew of a good barber, and the doctor told him of our loquacious friend. "But," said he, "although he is an excellent barber you must be careful not to say a word to him; otherwise he will never let up on you."

The next day the professor went in to get shaved, and remindful of what the doctor had said he maintained a discreet silence and steadily resisted all attempts at conversation on the part of the barber. The next day after Dr. Dickenson went in to get shaved. "Do you know who that quiet, elderly gentleman was whom you shaved yesterday," he asked.

"Why, no," said the barber." "I only know I couldn't get a word out of him."

"Well," replied the doctor, "that was Professor Tyndall, the celebrated physicist."

"You don't say," exclaimed the barber, flourishing his razor emphatically, "I only wish I had known it; I would have upset all of his theories in five minutes."—Brooklyn Life.

No Mistake.

"By the way," remarked a resident of an up town thoroughfare to a casual acquaintance a morning or two ago, "do you know a man calling himself Samuel Thompson, a big fellow about 40, who wears a bushy beard?"

"Never knew such a man in my life," replied the other somewhat brusquely. "Why do you inquire?"

"Oh, such a person came to my office yesterday, introduced himself, said he was acquainted with you and asked me to lend him $10."

"The scoundrel! And I suppose you let him have the money upon the strength of his representation of knowing me? Well, it's your loss. I don't know him and don't intend to be held responsible for a single cent."

"But you are hasty," remarked the first speaker, "and," he added, "your conclusions are entirely erroneous. It was upon the strength of his representations of knowing you that I refused to lend him the money, and I see I made no mistake in doing so."—New York Herald.

Bad Luck.

Perhaps there has not been a better illustration of the state of mind of these unfortunate persons who are called pessimists, who think that everything is as bad as it can be, but is going to be worse, than is contained in a remark made by one of their number recently.

A party of people had been spending the evening at a friend's house, where the pessimist had seemed to set himself forth as the sole and peculiar victim of all the ills of the universe. As the party came out into the open air, the pessimist in advance, he exclaimed:

"This is always the way! Such things never happen except to me!"

"What's happened to you now?"

"Why, don't you see? It rains!"—Youth's Companion.

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its torture, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding patience in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir:—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription," I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

I owe a great deal of suffering. I was troubled a great deal with leucorrhœa also, and it has done a world of good for me. Sincerely yours,

Old Party in Cable Car—Conductor, what's the matter with this car that it should jerk so?"

Conductor—It's got the grip.—Harper's Bazar.

A Put Up Job.

"Girls," he said dejectedly as he sat with his head resting on his hand, "girls make me weary."

"What's the matter now?" inquired his mother.

"Well," he went on spasmodically, "I went to see that Linwood girl last night; she's been holding me off for a month; wanted me to pop, I'm sure; kept hinting every night I went there that I was staying too late, but I never took the hint; girls have a way of shying at a chap in that style; they read about it in the papers; last night I made up my mind to nail her to the mast; talked right along for I don't know how long; girl yawned two or three times, but I never let up; finally I got where I thought was the place to make the break, and was just on the point of asking her when the clock began to strike; I counted up to 12 and had no idea it was so late; clock kept on striking, and I kind of gagged and had to stop for it; it didn't stop, though; girl began to snigger; clock kept right on; then I began to get warm; when the old clock had struck 67, it laid down and quit; then before I had a chance to get my second wind the old man sung out from the head of the stairs, 'Say, Lizzie, if that fellow is going to remain much longer after the clock has struck 67 he won't get home till some time next week, will he?' and I got up and left. Now, what do you think of that, mother?" and the mother got the camphor bottle and gave it to her boy.—Detroit Free Press.

NEAL DOW

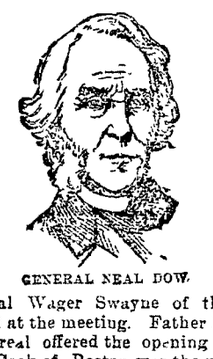

Figures at the International Temperance Congress.

MANY OTHER DISTINGUISHED MEN ALSO PRESENT.

What Maine's Apostle Has to Say.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The international temperance congress convened today in the big tabernacle in Prohibition park, Staten Island. Most of the delegates are here, and several preliminary meetings were held yesterday.

At the principal meeting yesterday, General Neal Dow of Maine was the most conspicuous figure. The venerable apostle of temperance sat in the center of the platform in a big rocking chair, which was covered with roses. Especial honors were paid General Dow, because the gathering delegates were celebrating the 48d anniversary of the signing of the first prohibition law in Maine.

GENERAL NEAL DOW.

General Wager Swayne of this city presided at the meeting. Father Murphy of Montreal offered the opening prayer. Joseph Cook of Boston was the principal speaker. His address was a review of "Sixty years of temperance agitation; what it has accomplished." He paid a high tribute to the work by General Neal Dow in the campaigns for prohibition in Maine.

Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York, then read and formally presented to the meeting an address to General Dow, which had been prepared by the following committee: B. B. Tyler, D. D., James Buckley, D. D., of New York, D. M. Mam, M. D., Mary A. Woodbridge of Chicago, A. J. Kynett, D. D., of Philadelphia, Mary A. Livermore of Boston, Rev. Father Nyland of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dr. Oron Hyatekah of Canada, Rev. J. C. Fernald of New York and Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army. It was signed by about 700 prohibitionists.

General Dow's Remarks.

General Dow accepted the address in a very clear, distinct and silvery voice, and said: "It will not be expected that I should reply to this address or to the many admirable things said about myself. It would be a very difficult thing to do so, because I do not feel that I have done anything to entitle me to so much honor. I have no words to present my appreciation."

He told of the effect of prohibition in Maine, and of the good work being done to secure universal prohibition.

"In that State," he said, "an entire generation has grown up without having seen a grog shop or known the taste of rum. In three-quarters of our territory the rum traffic is unknown."

Among the prominent persons who occupied seats on the platform were Governor Tillman of South Carolina, E. S. Marvin of Rochester, Dr. A. A. Miner of Boston, Mrs. Jusan M. Fessenden of the W. C. T. U., Volney B. Bushing of Bangor, Me., S. H. Hilliard of Boston and Mrs. Ellen J. Finney of Cleveland.

A Desperate Man's Deed.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—George Hill, 42 years of age, a furniture maker of Philadelphia, came here yesterday and attempted to kill his wife Rachel and their youngest son. Hill called to see his wife and shot her four times in the head, neck and wrist. He then shot his son. Mrs. Hill is not expected to live. Hill and his wife, both from Carroll county, had been married about 20 years, but for some months had been separated, he accusing her of unfaithfulness, and she refusing to live with him.

New York's Tax Meeting Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The New York Business Men's association of this city, under whose auspices the mass meeting to protest against the income tax was held last Friday night, continues to be flooded with telegrams from boards of trade, national banks and commercial bodies generally. All of them endorse the association in its opposition to the income tax measure, and come from Maine to Texas.

Arrival of China's Ambassador.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Yen Ching, the Chinese ambassador, was a passenger on the steamer La Champagne, which arrived yesterday from Havre. A Prominent Lawyer's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Ex-Judge John B. Broomall of Media, for 40 years the leader of the bar of Delaware county, and for nearly as long a period pre-eminently the central figure in the affairs of that county, died yesterday at the home of his daughter. He had attained the ripe old age of 78.

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

What President Dole Has to Say on the Annexation Policy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Walter G. Smith, formerly editor of the Hawaiian Star, sends from Honolulu a copy of the following self-explanatory letter received by him from President Dole, dated Honolulu, May 25:

My Dear Sir:—Your letter enclosing communication of Mr. Humphrey, secretary of the National Republican League of the United States, which suggests that some political organization and the provisional government should delegate you to speak for Hawaii and the policy of annexation before the league convention soon to be held in Denver, has waited too long for an answer.

While I agree with you that it would be unwise for the provisional government or the political organizations which support it to become identified with any political party in the United States, when all contain friends and advocates of the annexation policy, I feel that it would be no easy matter to find one who could represent the cause of Hawaii before the convention with more eloquence and enthusiasm than yourself.

Our request for political union with the United States is to the whole American people, and it is not for us to encourage any tendency that may exist to make a party matter of that. With America, it is an American question, and many of the best minds in all parts are fully enlisted in its favor, not to speak of the great public sentiment which is rapidly mastering the situation.

HELD IN CHECK.

Indiana State Troops Now Hold the Upper Hand Over the Miners.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 4.—State troops marched into Clark's Station yesterday, 500 strong, with a gatling gun, to find that only about 50 miners had stayed to face the music. The militia was drawn up in line along the edge of the woods, and the sheriff read the warrant against the miners for riotous conspiracy, and put three of the leaders under arrest, placing them in jail.

As soon as the troops were in line the railroad men at once repaired the track and the loaded cars were taken on west. The miners who were reported en route to Clark's Station did not materialize, neither had they collected at any point along the Baltimore and Ohio and Southwestern. The certainty that the officers intended to force the law seemed to quell the rebellious feeling among the men.

The miners say that as soon as the troops are withdrawn, they will again stop all coal cars, but anticipating all this, two companies will be stationed at Clark's until all fear of trouble is passed. Everything in this city is now quiet, and there is a general feeling of relief among all classes.

Johnson Island the Prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Johnson Island, the prize for which the provisional government and England are striving in an ocean race between the steamer Illand and H. M. S. Champion, has been the subject of considerable discussion in the past two years. The island was discovered in 1829 by H. M. S. Cornwallis, and named after the captain of that ship. It was examined in 1859 by Lieutenant Brooke of the United States schooner Fenimore Cooper. It is situated 16.44 north, 169.50 west, and is described as being a lagoon island.

Organized Seamen.

BOSTON, June 4.—Every organized seaman who has landed at this port within the past month has affixed his signature to a lengthy petition to congress, asking that the four amendments to the marine laws be adopted as proposed by Representative Maguire of California. The petition will be forwarded to Washington in a few days. The proposed changes are embodied in the Maguire bills now pending. The petition claims that the condition of seamen on United States vessels is below that of the seamen belonging to other countries.

Fun Resulted Fatally.

SHEPPARDSVILLE, Ky., June 4.—Ed. Hortz and Tom Hart were killed near hear Friday afternoon by the carlessness of Lee Eckert, a companion with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to a high bluff and rolled large rocks into the valley below. After a while Hortz and Hart went below to view the damage done by the rolling rocks. While they were in the valley Eckert pried off a large rock, which went down with a tremendous crash, crushing the two boys to death.

Miss Erskine's Suicide.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 4.—The suicide of Miss Lulu Erskine at Peekskill, N. Y., Saturday, caused the profoundest sensation here, where she belongs. Miss Erskine was a daughter of A. J. Erskine. She stood very prominent in social circles, and until Friday, when she suddenly left the city, was a bookkeeper in this city. Temporary insanity, caused by recent sickness, is the ascribed cause. The remains will be forwarded.

THE MINES ARE FLOODED AND DAMAGE DONE.

The Rivers Overflow Their Banks and Sweep Away Bridges—Travel Delayed and Trains Imperilled.

DENVER, June 4.—J. E. Murden, contracting agent for the Union Pacific, is in the city, having walked all the distance from Central City to Golden. He said: "No one can conceive of the destruction in that part of the country." Every mine in Central City and vicinity is flooded, and there is not a vestige of placer mine left in Clear Creek. Between Central City and Forks Creek there are 25 washouts, averaging from 10 to 50 feet in width.

Between Idaho Springs and Golden there are 36 washouts. The mining men in Central City estimate the loss to the county at $500,000. It is not known when the Gulf will commence running trains again to Central City and Georgetown, but it may be a week or 10 days yet. This estimate is based on the assumption that the creek will not again rise.

LAMAR, Colo., June 4.—Fifty feet of the south end of the bridge across the Arkansas river gave way before the flood Saturday night, and 25 feet on the north end was swept away. The river covered all the bottoms, and was a mile wide at the bridge. The Santa Fe's tracks, east and west, are submerged. All the irrigation canals are filled by the overflow, and some of them have been broken in many places. A number of farms along the river have been greatly damaged by the flood, which washed out all the crops.

Four westbound passenger trains are waiting for the track to be made passable. The river is slowly falling, and it is believed that the worst is over. It is impossible to at present estimate the amount of damage done. The water reached a higher point during the present flood than ever before known.

Two Fires at That City Entail a Property Loss of Over $250,000.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 4.—This city had two serious fires yesterday. The first was in the brick business block on Market square, and occurred at 1:30 a. m. The flames worked their way around the corner to the warehouse of Manchester, Robertson & Allison, and it is completely gutted. Much of the contents are burned or badly damaged. The total insurance is $123,000, and the loss will be about $250,000.

At 6 o'clock in the morning, Hamilton's mill was totally destroyed by fire. The mill was owned by Charles Hamilton & Son, who came here from the United States in 1870 and bought the mill and built it at a cost of $30,000. The insurance was cancelled on Thursday.

The men are now confident that they will be attacked, and all not necessary to guard the approaches to Bull Hill and forage for supplies have been massed about the fortification. Their number is slightly over 1800.

Caused Sensation In Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The dismissal of the Bulgarian Prime Minister Stambuloff by Prince Ferdinand caused a sensation here, but it is not regarded as menacing the peace of Europe or offering any prospect of the solution of the Bulgarian question, for Russia's objection was not to M. Stambuloff personally, but to Prince Ferdinand's illegal occupation of the Bulgarian throne, which Russia holds to be a standing infraction of the Berlin treaty.

OF BOSTON, TELLS OF UNEXPECTED RELIEF
"I Recommend Dana's to All!"

Mr. Denon, whose statement follows has been engaged in the Furniture and House Furnishing business at his place on Dover St, for over 30 years. Read his wonderful statement:

"For the last 3 or 4 years I have been obliged to take a vacation in the Spring. And last March I was feeling unusually miserable. I was so nervous I could not get to sleep some nights until six o'clock in the morning, and when I did sleep would have horrible dreams. A friend came in and recommended and PILLS. I did not have much faith in patent medicines, but I procured the Sarsaparilla and Pills. Before one bottle was gone I unexpectedly found I was receiving great benefit. My appetite became ravenous, could eat four square meals a day. I have taken four bottles and can sleep all night and get up as fresh as I did 20 years ago. I also had Varicose Veins on my left leg that were very bad, and they are almost well. I recommend DANA'S SARSAPARILLA and PILLS to all. A number of my friends have also been greatly benefited.

Yours very truly, P. M. DENON."

NEAL DOW

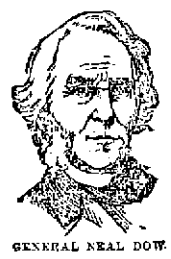

Figures at the International Temperance Congress.

MANY OTHER DISTINGUISHED MEN ALSO PRESENT.

What Maine's Apostle Has to Say.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The international temperance congress convened today in the big tabernacle in Prohibition park, Staten Island. Most of the delegates are here, and several preliminary meetings were held yesterday.

At the principal meeting yesterday, General Neal Dow of Maine was the most conspicuous figure. The venerable apostle of temperance sat in the center of the platform in a big rocking chair, which was covered with roses. Especial honors were paid General Dow, because the gathering delegates were celebrating the 43d anniversary of the signing of the first prohibition law in Maine.

GENERAL NEAL DOW.

General Wager Swayne of this city presided at the meeting. Father Murphy of Montreal offered the opening prayer. Joseph Cook of Boston was the principal speaker. His address was a review of "Sixty years of temperance agitation; what it has accomplished." He paid a high tribute to the work by General Neal Dow in the campaigns for prohibition in Maine.

Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York, then read and formally presented to the meeting an address to General Dow, which had been prepared by the following committee: B. B. Tyler, D. D., James Buckley, D. D., of New York, D. M. Mam, M. D., Mary A. Woodbridge of Chicago, A. J. Kynett, D. D., of Philadelphia, Mary A. Livermore of Boston, Rev. Father Nyland of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dr. Oron Hyatekah of Canada, Rev. J. C. Fernald of New York and Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army. It was signed by about 700 prohibitionists.

General Dow's Remarks.

General Dow accepted the address in a very clear, distinct and silvery voice, and said: "It will not be expected that I should reply to this address or to the many admirable things said about myself. It would be a very difficult thing to do so, because I do not feel that I have done anything to entitle me to so much honor. I have no words to present my appreciation."

He told of the effect of prohibition in Maine, and of the good work being done to secure universal prohibition.

"In that State," he said, "an entire generation has grown up without having seen a grog shop or known the taste of rum. In three-quarters of our territory the rum traffic is unknown."

Among the prominent persons who occupied seats on the platform were Governor Tillman of South Carolina, E. S. Marvin of Rochester, Dr. A. A. Miner of Boston, Mrs. Jusan M. Fessenden of the W. C. T. U., Volney B. Bushing of Bangor, Me., S. H. Hilliard of Boston and Mrs. Ellen J. Finney of Cleveland.

A Desperate Man's Deed.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—George Hill, 42 years of age, a furniture maker of Philadelphia, came here yesterday and attempted to kill his wife Rachel and their youngest son. Hill called to see his wife and shot her four times in the head, neck and wrist. He then shot his son. Mrs. Hill is not expected to live. Hill and his wife, both from Carroll county, had been married about 20 years, but for some months had been separated, he accusing her of unfaithfulness, and she refusing to live with him.

New York's Tax Meeting Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The New York Business Men's association of this city, under whose auspices the mass meeting to protest against the income tax was held last Friday night, continues to be flooded with telegrams from boards of trade, national banks and commercial bodies generally. All of them endorse the association in its opposition to the income tax measure, and come from Maine to Texas.

Arrival of China's Ambassador.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Yen Ching, the Chinese ambassador, was a passenger on the steamer La Champagne, which arrived yesterday from Havre. He has been on a tour of inspection of the European Chinese embassies, and after inspecting the various embassies on this continent, he will return to China and make an official report to the Chinese government.

Socialists Failed to Celebrate.

PARIS, June 4.—The demonstration by the socialists yesterday in commemoration of the bloody week of the commune was abandoned. Attempts were made by the socialists to hold meetings elsewhere, but the police interfered and suppressed them.

Atalanta Off For Glasgow.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The steam yacht Atalanta sailed early yesterday morning for Glasgow. Just before she sailed Howard Gould was handed a dispatch reporting the sighting of the Vigilant on the morning of June 2 by the steamship Rhaetia.

Suspected of Burglary.

BANGOR, Me., June 4.—Sheriff Bickford of Burnham arrested two tramps yesterday, supposed to be the burglars who made the break at Brooks Tuesday night last. They had about $30 on their persons.

Gladstone's Recovery.

LONDON, June 4.—Mr. Gladstone has so far recovered from the effects of the recent operation he underwent for cataract that he drove out yesterday in a closed carriage.

Against Child Labor.

BOSTON, June 4.—The Central Labor union yesterday announced that it would inaugurate a crusade against child labor. The subject will be dealt with June 17.

A Prominent Lawyer's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Ex-Judge John B. Broomall of Media, for 40 years the leader of the bar of Delaware county, and for nearly as long a period pre-eminently the central figure in the affairs of that county, died yesterday at the home of his daughter. He had attained the ripe old age of 78.

HAWAIIAN MATTERS.

What President Dole Has to Say on the Annexation Policy.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Walter G. Smith, formerly editor of the Hawaiian Star, sends from Honolulu a copy of the following self-explanatory letter received by him from President Dole, dated Honolulu, May 25:

My Dear Sir:—Your letter enclosing communication of Mr. Humphrey, secretary of the National Republican League of the United States, which suggests that some political organization and the provisional government should delegate you to speak for Hawaii and the policy of annexation before the league convention soon to be held in Denver, has waited too long for an answer.

While I agree with you that it would be unwise for the provisional government or the political organizations which support it to become identified with any political party in the United States, when all contain friends and advocates of the annexation policy, I feel that it would be no easy matter to find one who could represent the cause of Hawaii before the convention with more eloquence and enthusiasm than yourself.

Our request for political union with the United States is to the whole American people, and it is not for us to encourage any tendency that may exist to make a party matter of that. With America, it is an America n question, and many of the best minds in all parts are fully enlisted in its favor, not to speak of the great public sentiment which is rapidly mastering the situation.

HELD IN CHECK.

Indiana State Troops Now Hold the Upper Hand Over the Miners.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 4.—State troops marched into Clark's Station yesterday, 500 strong, with a gatling gun, to find that only about 50 miners had stayed to face the music. The militia was drawn up in line along the edge of the woods, and the sheriff read the warrant against the miners for riotous conspiracy, and put three of the leaders under arrest, placing them in jail.

As soon as the troops were in line the railroad men at once repaired the track and the loaded cars were taken on west. The miners who were reported en route to Clark's Station did not materialize, neither had they collected at any point along the Baltimore and Ohio and Southwestern. The certainty that the officers intended to force the law seemed to quell the rebellious feeling among the men.

The miners say that as soon as the troops are withdrawn, they will again stop all coal cars, but anticipating all this, two companies will be stationed at Clark's until all fear of trouble is passed. Everything in this city is now quiet, and there is a general feeling of relief among all classes.

Johnson Island the Prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Johnson Island, the prize for which the provisional government and England are striving in an ocean race between the steamer Ulland and H. M. S. Champion, has been the subject of considerable discussion in the past two years. The island was discovered in 1820 by H. M. S. Cornwallis, and named after the captain of that ship. It was examined in 1859 by Lieutenant Brooke of the United States schooner Fenimore Cooper. It is situated 16.44 north, 169.30 west, and is described as being a lagoon island.

Organized Seamen.

BOSTON, June 4.—Every organized seaman who has landed at this port within the past month has affixed his signature to a lengthy petition to congress, asking that the four amendments to the marine laws be adopted as proposed by Representative Maguire of California. The petition will be forwarded to Washington in a few days. The proposed changes are embodied in the Maguire bills now pending. The petition claims that the condition of seamen on United States vessels is below that of the seamen belonging to other countries.

Fun Resulted Fatally.

SHEEPARDSVILLE, Ky., June 4. — Ed. Hortz and Tom Hart were killed near here Friday afternoon by the carelessness of Lee Eckert, a companion with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to a high bluff and rolled large rocks into the valley below. After a while Hortz and Hart went below to view the damage done by the rolling rocks. While they were in the valley Eckert pried off a large rock, which went down with a tremendous crash, crushing the two boys to death.

Miss Erskine's Suicide.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 4.—The suicide of Miss Lulu Erskine at Peekskill, N. Y., Saturday, caused the profoundest sensation here, where she belongs. Miss Erskine was a daughter of A. J. Erskine. She stood very prominent in social circles, and until Friday, when she suddenly left the city, was a bookkeeper in this city. Temporary insanity, caused by recent sickness, is the ascribed cause. The remains will be forwarded.

Strike In a Buffalo Hotel.

BUFFALO, June 4.—Every waiter, porter and helloy in the Genesee hotel struck last night. The cause of the strike is an order issued by the proprietor that every employe should remove his hat when entering the office. The proprietor says he will have no trouble in filling the places made vacant by the strike.

The Cuban Budget.

MADRID, June 4.—It is said that the Cuban budget will show a surplus of $25,000, attained by raising the tariff on American imports, lowering the export duty on tobacco and sugar, and admitting Spanish wines free and excluding French and other wines.

Resignation In the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Lowris Bell, second assistant postmaster general, has resigned his office to accept the position of general traffic manager of the Central New Jersey.

Governor Waite Inexorable.

DENVER, June 4.—Sheriff Bowers made another appeal yesterday to the governor for troops, but so far the demand has proved ineffectual.

COLORADO DELUGED.

THE MINES ARE FLOODED AND DAMAGE DONE.

The Rivers Overflow Their Banks and Sweep Away Bridges—Travel Delayed and Trains Imperilled.

DENVER, June 4.—J. E. Murden, contracting agent for the Union Pacific, is in the city, having walked all the distance from Central City to Golden. He said: "No one can conceive of the destruction in that part of the country." Every mine in Central City and vicinity is flooded, and there is not a vestige of placer mine left in Clear Creek. Between Central City and Forks Creek there are 28 washouts, averaging from 10 to 50 feet in width.

Between Idaho Springs and Golden there are 26 washouts. The mining men in Central City estimate the loss to the county at $500,000. It is not known when the Gulf will commence running trains again to Central City and Georgetown, but it may be a week or 10 days yet. This estimate is based on the assumption that the creek will not again rise.

LAMAR, Colo., June 4.—Fifty feet of the south end of the bridge across the Arkansas river gave way before the flood Saturday night, and 25 feet on the north end was swept away. The river covered all the bottoms, and was a mile wide at the bridge. The Santa Fe's tracks, east and west, are submerged. All the irrigation canals are filled by the overflow, and some of them have been broken in many places. A number of farms along the river have been greatly damaged by the flood, which washed out all the crops.

Four westbound passenger trains are waiting for the track to be made passable. The river is slowly falling, and it is believed that the worst is over. It is impossible to at present estimate the amount of damage done. The water reached a higher point during the present flood than ever before known.

ST. JOHN SCOURGED.

Two Fires at That City Entail a Property Loss of Over $250,000.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 4.—This city had two serious fires yesterday. The first was in the brick business block on Market square, and occurred at 1:30 a. m. The Merritt building is a complete wreck, and the five-story building, occupied by Miller & Co., wholesale dry goods, is badly damaged, and much of their stock was destroyed by fire, smoke and water. The flames worked their way around the corner to the warehouse of Manchester, Robertson & Allison, and it is completely gutted. Much of the contents are burned or badly damaged. The total insurance is $123,000, and the loss will be about $250,000.

At 6 o'clock in the morning, Hamilton's mill was totally destroyed by fire. The mill was owned by Charles Hamilton & Son, who came here from the United States in 1870 and bought the mill and built it a cost of $80,000. The insurance was cancelled on Thursday.

Colorado Miners Massing.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 4.—Yesterday the striking miners were on the alert, expecting that any moment some of Sheriff Bowers' deputies would put in an appearance in some remote portion of the camp. Not a single miner is working. The men are now confident that they will be attacked, and all not necessary to guard the approaches to Bull Hill and forage for supplies have been massed about the fortification. Their number is slightly over 1600.

Caused Sensation In Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The dismissal of the Bulgarian Prime Minister Stambuloff by Prince Ferdinand caused a sensation here, but it is not regarded as menacing the peace of Europe or offering any prospect of the solution of the Bulgarian question, for Russia's objection was not to M. Stambuloff personally, but to Prince Ferdinand's illegal occupation of the Bulgarian throne, which Russia holds to be a standing infraction of the Berlin treaty.

Turpin's Plans Recovered.

PARIS, June 4.—M. Lagrange of the Patrie and M. M. Gautier and Cardonne of Figaro, who went to Brussels to see Turpin, the inventor, were successful in convincing him that he would be guilty of a great wrong against France if he were to sell his secrets to Germany. They received from Turpin all the documents descriptive of his plans and inventions, and will place them in the hands of the minister of war.

He received a letter from Lawyer Walsh saying that if he attempted to preach in the church yesterday he would be arrested. The Shearites left and attended a service conducted by Shear in an orchard near the parsonage. Rev. R. H. Bosworth of Brooklyn preached in the church, making no reference to the trouble.

Accident to a Baseball Umpire.

PROVIDENCE, June 4.—Umpire Gaffney, who was injured by being struck by the wire of his mask, which was broken by a batted ball at the game Friday, had a portion of the frontal bone removed at the hospital. THE KIND THAT CURES

E. M. DENON, Boston, Mass.

A Prominent Business Man OF BOSTON, TELLS OF UNEXPECTED RELIEF

"I Recommend Dana's to All!"

Mr. Denon, whose statement follows, has been engaged in the Furniture and House Furnishing business at his place on Dover St. for over 30 years. Read his wonderful statement:

"For the last 3 or 4 years I have been obliged to take a vacation in the Spring. And last March I was feeling unusually miserable. I was so nervous I could not get to sleep some nights until 6 o'clock in the morning, and when I did sleep would have horrible dreams. A friend came in and recommended and PILLS. I did not have much faith in patent medicines, but I procured the Sarsaparilla and Pills. Before one bottle was gone I unexpectedly found I was receiving great benefit. My appetite became ravenous, until at four square meals a day. I have taken four bottles and consider all right and get up as fresh as I did 20 years ago. I also had Varicose Veins on my left leg that were very bad, and they are almost well. I recommend DANA'S SARSAPARILLA and PILLS to all. A number of my friends have also been greatly benefited.

Yours very truly, E. M. DENON.

Around the Bases.

Baltimore is on top again

It is a pretty race between the first five clubs.

Brooklyn improved it hold on a place in the first division

Boston's victory Saturday did not affect its position, leaving it in fifth place.

John F Morrill, Boston's old captain, is now dangerously ill at his home in Boston.

New York failed to win a single game from St Louis, greatly to the surprise of everyone.

Pitcher Lampe was hit for 16 base hits by an amateur club in South Boston on Memorial Day.

Charley Bennett says that Weidman, Derby, Clarkson and Nichols were the greatest pitchers he ever caught.

The pitcher's box at Congress street grounds is soft, and the pitchers claim they have no control of the ball.

With Gauzell in good shape, Boston is all right outside the box, and the pitchers are bound to round to before long.

Boston's defeat of Cleveland Saturday put the latter club into second place, tied with Pittsburg and Philadelphia, while the Baltimores have once more crept into first position.

President Young is taking a vote of the clubs on the protested game of Baltimore against Boston on April 25. He will announce the vote as soon as it comes in. It means a lot to the Orioles.

BURLINGTON'S BIG BLAZE.

Brodie's Block and Contents Destroyed—Loss Placed at $65,000

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 4—The Sabbath quiet of this city was disturbed by a fire alarm yesterday, which was sounded shortly after noon for a blaze in Brodie's block on Church street

The entire department responded, and fought one of the most stubborn fires this city has suffered in a long time. The entire block, a four-story structure, was gutted, and of the contents practically nothing was saved

The total loss is placed at $65,000, with the total insurance $35 000. The block is owned by Kelsey & Brodie, was worth $20 000, and was insured for $9000

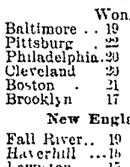

The fire department did excellent service, and but for their efficiency and the extremely excellent conditions, the city would undoubtedly have suffered a heavy loss There is no theory as to the origin of the fire.

Fatal Result of a Runaway.

HAVERHILL Mass, June 4—William Collins, a well-known young merchant here, and ex-member of the fire department, while driving in the evening with Miss Kate Welsh, had his horse become unmanageable and run away. The occupants were thrown out. Collins escaped unhurt, but his companion was fatally injured She was taken to the hospital, where her case was declared to be mortal.

LACONIA'S SAD FATE.

THE CAR WORKS AND FOUNDRY DESTROYED.

The Loss Will Reach $100,000—Over 150 Workmen Thrown Out of Employment.

LACONIA, N. H, June 4—A fire that broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the Laconia car works destroyed over $100,000 worth of property. The car company's loss includes three large buildings in the passenger car department, their entire malleable iron foundry plant, with patterns, etc.; also two small dwelling houses.

Considerable damage was done to a large tenement building and other shops, and several passenger coaches and electric street cars in the process of construction and nearly completed were burned.

General Manager Pearley Putnam estimates the value of the property destroyed at $75,000, on which was an insurance of $49,500. A large refrigerator building and office, owned by the Swift Beef company, is a total loss, with contents valued at $10,000 and insured for $5500.

A three-story tenement, owned by Orville A. Atkinson of Boston, is also a total loss; value estimated at $4500; insured for about $3000 in Massachusetts.

The fire started in the paint shop at the car works. There are indications of incendiarism, as the watchman inspected the building just previous to the discovery of the flames. Manager Putnam states that the car works and foundry will be rebuilt at once.

The fire was the most disastrous that Laconia has experienced in years. Only the fact that heavy showers drenched adjoining buildings saved the city from a general conflagration.

Outside Aid Summoned.

Chief Engineer George A. Sanders, finding the fire spreading beyond control, telephoned to the city of Concord for aid. A steamer and hose carriage with 30 men, Chief Davis and Assistant Engineer Brown came on a special train, making the run of 28 miles in 35 minutes. The south-bound Canadian express was held here to keep the line clear.

The Concord firemen were not needed, however, as the flames were under control when they arrived. In addition to the losses already reported, scores of workmen in the carshops lost valuable kits of tools, the individual losses in some cases running as high as $200, on which there was no insurance.

Nearly all of the furniture and household goods in the Atkinson tenement block were consumed, as the fire spread so rapidly that there was no time to remove the goods, which were not insured. John Kelley and James Gilpatrick, tenants in the tenement adjoining the paint shop, where the fire started, lost everything, their families barely escaping with their lives in their night clothes.

The most serious blow is the destruction of the malleable iron foundry, which was crowded with orders. A temporary structure has been erected over the large ovens, and the whole available force were put to work today to clear the debris. Orders for lumber are already given, and the work of rebuilding will commence tomorrow.

Death of General Ezeta.

PANAMA, June 4—In the battle at Santa Ana on May 24, the government troops under General Antonio Ezeta were defeated. General Ezeta died. Six hundred soldiers were killed. General Bolanos was wounded President Ezeta has resigned in favor of Carlos Bonilla. A counter revolution is sure to break out, as Bonilla is not generally acceptable. Possibly General Rivas may become president.

Miss Chase's Sad Fate.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Miss Ellen J. Chase, aged 22, living in the fashionable West End, swallowed the contents of an ounce bottle of carbolic acid, and died in half an hour. No reason is assigned. She was the daughter of Mrs. Henry L. Chase, a widow, whose husband was formerly head of the Chase Bagging company of this city. The family until two years ago lived in Boston.

Iowa's Disastrous Fire.

OTTUMWA, Ia., June 4—A disastrous fire occurred here yesterday, and five blocks are a mass of ruins. One person was burned to death, one fatally affected by smoke and three others were seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $225,000, about one-third covered by insurance The fire is supposed to have originated from the spark of a locomotive.

Lithograph Firm In Trouble.

SPRINGFIELD, O, June 4—The Winter Art Lithograph company, one of the largest establishments of the kind in the west, have applied for a receiver. Liabilities, $175 000; assets, $75 000. They furnished the World's fair lithographs, and are now engaged in publishing the book of the builders of the Columbian Memorial Publication society.

Hedervary's Embarrassment.

VIENNA, June 4.—Count Hedervay, who was attempting to form a ministry in Hungary to succesd that of Dr. Wekerle, has telegraphed to Emperor Francis Joseph that he is unable to form a cabinet. The emperor has started for Buda Pesth in deference to Count Hedervary's desire that his majesty show himself to the people.

Coxeyites Sent Back.

ELLIS, Kan, June 4.—The eastward progress of a band of commonwealers came to an unexpected end last evening here, and instead of being sent on to Kansas City they were hustled back to Denver under a guard of United States deputy marshals On Saturday morning about 75 "Wealers" came in from Denver over the Union Pacific road. Superintendent Brinkerhoff, after communicating with General Attorney Williams, of Topeka, decided that the men must not be hauled.

MILLER CAME DOWN.

COUNCILMAN NOBLE AT THE STREET COMMITTEE MEETING.

He Objects to Extra Charge For Grain and Mr Miller Makes a Reduction Before Being Paid His Bill.

There was rather a breezy time at the meeting of the street committee Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of approving bills, and everything went along lovely, until a bill sent in by Joseph Miller, grain dealer, came up for approval. There was also a bill from E. N. Wood & Co., and on each appeared, a charge for corn. It seems Miller wanted three cents a bushel more for corn, than was asked by E. N. Wood & Co. The latter's price was considered a fair one, and Councilman Noble protested against paying more to Miller than to Wood. Some of the committee thought Miller should get his price, but finally Councilman Noble's protest prevailed and a telephone message was sent to Mr. Miller stating the action of the committee. It did not take that gentleman long to decide to bring his price on a par with that asked by Mr. Wood and so the bill was approved with the change in price.

Then Alderman Lovejoy, Councilmen Kittredge and O'Connell were appointed a committee to interview some Salem parties and see what arrangements can be made to furnish crushed stone to this city.

Councilman Noble wanted to have Broadway macadamized from Suffolk to Marion street. Alderman Lovejoy ruled such a motion out of order on the ground that the appropriation for paving is exhausted. Councilman Noble then inquired if paving projects had not been favorably acted upon before when the appropriation was exhausted. Alderman Lovejoy replied in the affirmative but said the point was not raised at the time.

Councilmad O'Connell wanted to have a vote taken on a sidewalk petition. The petition was at his home, but that did not prevent a majority of the committee from voting in favor of it.

The chairman was instructed to notify the Locks & Canals Co. to do certain work on the canal bridge near the new Concord river bridge, that was agreed on some time ago as a condition by the city ncident to the work on the new bridge.

GRECIAN HEROES.

Laid Almost Lifeless on the Field by Frenchmen.

Some Frenchmen and a few Greeks got into a quarrel in Pawtucketville yesterday. Other interested friends on both sides came to the scene and all joined in to fight for their respective nationalities. It was a furious fight while it lasted. The Greeks got the worst of it and when the police arrived, having been called by telephone one of them, James Melancthon or James Somethingelse was found wounded on the field and removed to the General hospital in the ambulance. One Frenchman was arrested but he say him no beat one Greekman.

New York failed to win a single game from St. Louis, greatly to the surprise of everyone.

Pitcher Lampe was hit for 16 base hits by an amateur club in South Boston on Memorial Day.

Charley Bennett says that Weidman, Derby, Clarkson and Nichols were the greatest pitchers he ever caught.

The pitcher's box at Congress street grounds is soft, and the pitchers claim they have no control of the ball.

With Ganzell in good shape, Boston is all right outside the box, and the pitchers are bound to round to before long.

Boston's defeat of Cleveland Saturday put the latter club into second place, tied with Pittsburg and Philadelphia, while the Baltimores have once more crept into first position.

President Young is taking a vote of the clubs on the protested game of Baltimore against Boston on April 23. He will announce the vote as soon as it comes in. It means a lot to the Orioles.

BURLINGTON'S BIG BLAZE.

Brodie's Block and Contents Destroyed—Loss Placed at $65,000.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 4.—The Sabbath quiet of this city was disturbed by a fire alarm yesterday, which was sounded shortly after noon for a blaze in Brodie's block on Church street.

The entire department responded, and fought one of the most stubborn fires this city has suffered in a long time. The entire block, a four-story structure, was gutted, and of the contents practically nothing was saved.

The total loss is placed at $65,000, with the total insurance $35,000. The block is owned by Kelsey & Brodie, was worth $20,000, and was insured for $9000.

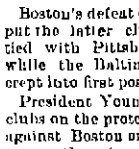

The fire department did excellent service, and but for their efficiency and the extremely excellent conditions, the city would undoubtedly have suffered a heavy loss There is no theory as to the origin of the fire.

Fatal Result of a Runaway.

HAVERHILL Mass., June 4.—William Collins, a well-known young merchant here, and ex-member of the fire department, while driving in evening with Miss Kate Welsh, had his horse become unmanageable and run away. The occupants were thrown out. Collins escaped unhurt, but his companion was fatally injured. She was taken to the hospital, where her case was declared to be mortal.

LACONIA'S SAD FATE.

THE CAR WORKS AND FOUNDRY DESTROYED.

The Loss Will Reach $100,000—Over 150 Workmen Thrown Out of Employment.

LACONIA, N. H., June 4.—A fire that broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the Laconia car works destroyed over $100,000 worth of property. The car company's loss includes three large buildings in the passenger car department, their entire malleable iron foundry plant, with patterns, etc.; also two small dwelling houses.

Considerable damage was done to a large tenement building and other shops, and several passenger coaches and electric street cars in the process of construction and nearly completed were burned.

General Manager Pearley Putnam estimates the value of the property destroyed at $75,000, on which was an insurance of $49,500. A large refrigerator building and office, owned by the Swift Beef company, is a total loss, with contents valued at $10,000 and insured for $5600.

A three-story tenement, owned by Orville A. Atkinson of Boston, is also a total loss; value estimated at $4500; insured for about $3000 in Massachusetts.

The fire started in the paint shop at the car works. There are indications of incendiarism, as the watchman inspected the building just previous to the discovery of the flames. Manager Putnam states that the car works and foundry will be rebuilt at once.

The fire was the most disastrous that Laconia has experienced in years. Only the fact that heavy showers drenched adjoining buildings saved the city from a general conflagration.

Outside Aid Summoned.

Chief Engineer George A. Sanders, finding the fire spreading beyond control, telephoned to the city of Concord for aid. A steamer and hose carriage with 30 men, Chief Davis and Assistant Engineer Brown came on a special train, making the run of 28 miles in 35 minutes. The south-bound Canadian express was held here to keep the line clear.

The Concord firemen were not needed, however, as the flames were under control when they arrived. In addition to the losses already reported, scores of workmen in the carshops lost valuable kits of tools, the individual losses in some cases running as high as $200, on which there was no insurance.

Nearly all of the furniture and household goods in the Atkinson tenement block were consumed, as the fire spread so rapidly that there was no time to remove the goods, which were not insured. John Kelley and James Gilpatrick, tenants in the tenement adjoining the paint shop, where the fire started, lost everything, their families barely escaping with their lives in their night clothes.

The most serious blow is the destruction of the malleable iron foundry, which was crowded with orders. A temporary structure has been erected over the large ovens, and the whole available force were put to work today to clear the debris. Orders for lumber are already given, and the work of rebuilding will commence tomorrow.

Death of General Ezeta.

PANAMA, June 4.—In the battle at Santa Ana on May 24, the government troops under General Antonio Ezeta were defeated. General Ezeta died. Six hundred soldiers were killed. General Belanos was wounded. President Ezeta has resigned in favor of Carlos Bonilla. A counter revolution is sure to break out, as Bonilla is not generally acceptable. Possibly General Rivas may become president.

Miss Chase's Sad Fate.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Miss Ellen J. Chase, aged 22, living in the fashionable West End, swallowed the contents of an ounce bottle of carbolic acid, and died in half an hour. No reason is assigned. She was the daughter of Mrs. Henry L. Chase, a widow, whose husband was formerly head of the Chase Bagging company of this city. The family until two years ago lived in Boston.

Iowa's Disastrous Fire.

OTTUMWA, Ia., June 4.—A disastrous fire occurred here yesterday, and five blocks are a mass of ruins. One person was burned to death, one fatally affected by smoke and three others were seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $225,000, about one-third covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from the spark of a locomotive.

Lithograph Firm In Trouble.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 4.—The Winter Art Lithograph company, one of the largest establishments of the kind in the west, have applied for a receiver. Liabilities, $175,000; assets, $75,000. They furnished the World's fair lithographs, and are now engaged in publishing the book of the builders of the Columbian Memorial Publication society.

Hedervary's Embarrassment.

VIENNA, June 4.—Count Hedervay, who was attempting to form a ministry in Hungary to succeed that of Dr. Wekerle, has telegraphed to Emperor Francis Joseph that he is unable to form a cabinet. The emperor has started for Buda Pesth in deference to Count Hedervary's desire that his majesty show himself to the people.

Coxeyites Sent Back.

ELLIS, Kan., June 4.—The eastward progress of a band of commonwealers came to an unexpected end last evening here, and instead of being sent on to Kansas City they were hustled back to Denver under a guard of United States deputy marshals. On Saturday morning about 75 "Wealers" came in from Denver over the Union Pacific road. Superintendent Brinkerhoff, after communicating with General Attorney Williams, of Topeka, decided that the men must not be hauled.

MILLER CAME DOWN.

COUNCILMAN NOBLE AT THE STREET COMMITTEE MEETING.

He Objects to Extra Charge For Grain and Mr. Miller Makes a Reduction Before Being Paid His Bill.

There was rather a breezy time at the meeting of the street committee Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of approving bills, and everything went along lovely, until a bill sent in by Joseph Miller, grain dealer, came up for approval. There was also a bill from E. N. Wood & Co., and on each appeared, a charge for corn. It seems Miller wanted three cents a bushel more for corn, than was asked by E. N. Wood & Co. The latter's price was considered a fair one, and Councilman Noble protested against paying more to Miller than to Wood. Some of the committee thought Miller should get his price, but finally Councilman Noble's protest prevailed and a telephone message was sent to Mr. Miller stating the action of the committee. It did not take that gentleman long to decide to bring his price on a par with that asked by Mr. Wood and so the bill was approved with the change in price.

Then Alderman Lovejoy, Councilmen Kittredge and O'Connell were appointed a committee to interview some Salem parties and see what arrangements can be made to furnish crushed stone to this city.

Councilman Noble wanted to have Broadway macadamized from Suffolk to Marion street. Alderman Lovejoy ruled such a motion out of order on the ground that the appropriation for paving is exhausted. Councilman Noble then inquired if paving projects had not been favorably acted upon before when the appropriation was exhausted. Alderman Lovejoy replied in the affirmative but said the point was not raised at the time.

Councilman O'Connell wanted to have a vote taken on a sidewalk petition. The petition was at his home, but that did not prevent a majority of the committee from voting in favor of it.

The chairman was instructed to notify the Locks & Canals Co. to do certain work on the canal bridge near the new Concord river bridge, that was agreed on some time ago as a condition by the city accident to the work on the new bridge.

GRECIAN HEROES.

Laid Almost Lifeless on the Field by Frenchmen.

Some Frenchmen and a few Greeks got into a quarrel in Pawtuckelville yesterday. Other interested friends on both sides came to the scene and all joined in to fight for their respective nationalities. It was a furious fight while it lasted. The Greeks got the worst of it and when the police arrived, having been called by telephone one of them, James Melancthon or James Somethingelse was found wounded on the field and removed to the General hospital in the ambulance. One Frenchman was arrested but he say him no beat one Greekman.

A Boy Missing.

John Wiley, aged 7 years, is missing from his home on Middlesex street, since Saturday afternoon. He was sent on an errand to his aunt's house in Centralville, about 4 o'clock that afternoon, and as he did not return home that night, his mother concluded that he had remained with his aunt over night. She found out, however, in going there yesterday morning that he had not put in an appearance there at all. She then reported the matter at the police station, fearing that he had been kidnapped. It is thought he will turn up all right.
